Cookin' up something special for Mom

No kidding around — Timmy Erdlen and the rest of the boys and girls in Learning Jamboree's preschool program will prepare breakfasts for their mothers tomorrow, Friday, as an early Mother's Day present. For more on what some youth are doing in Andover for Sunday, Mother's Day, see story, page 4.

Three debt-exclusion votes May 23 What will be cut if the safety center vote fails?

By Neil Fater

If residents vote against Question 1, a debt-exclusion of Proposition 2½ to pay for the town's new safety center, some supporters say Andover will see notable cuts in town services.

But officials aren't revealing exactly what these cuts will be.

In fact, neither the selectmen, Finance Committee nor town manager have a plan outlining what programs or positions will most likely face the ax if the safety-center debt-exclusion effort fails.

"Should it fail, every department would be affected in some way," says Town Manager Buzz Stapczynski. "What I don't want to say is, 'We're going to lay this person off, or that person.' What I'm looking for is a safe answer."

So, all voters will know when they head to the polls May 23, is approximately how much money will be needed each year, between 2001 and 2021, to pay for the safety center debt. If voters defeat Question 1 on May 23, this money will have to come out of the town's operating budget.

If Question 1 is approved, the town can raise taxes by more than 2.5 percent plus growth, specifically to pay for the safety center construction.

Officials say the first annual payment on the safety center, of $273,000 in fiscal year 2001, can be handled without cuts. But they say it appears budget paring will be needed in subsequent years.

Between 2002 and 2004, the annual cost of the safety center project will be more than $1 million. Between fiscal years 2005 and 2021, the yearly bill will be between $995,000 and $559,000.

Stapczynski says town and school departments will have to

New design, $387,000 raised Senior center update

By Neil Fater

The architect looking to turn Phillips Academy's Williams Hall into Andover's next senior center has schematic designs in hand and does not plan to demolish as much of the building as originally intended.

Pointing to the designs as a major step, fundraisers for the project are now saying their fundraising campaign should kick into a higher gear.

In fact, Council on Aging head Jeanne Madden characterized the fundraising campaign to date as just preliminary efforts.

Not including $500,000 approved as "seed money" by 1997 Town Meeting, the Friends of Andover Seniors fundraising group has raised $387,000 since 1996 to build a center expected to cost more than $4 million.

After receiving its first public update on the senior center project in several months Monday, selectmen offered encouragement to the Friends and Council on Aging.

Weekend Rush expected at Club 47

By Neil Fater

Considering she gained national recognition at age 15 with her controversial hit song Society's Child in 1967, you might think Grammy-winning musician Janis Ian has always been used to people watching her.

You'd be right.

But it turns out eyes were always on her both on stage and off.

According to Ian, because her left-wing father, a chicken farmer, attended a meeting on egg prices before she was born, the FBI watched the family throughout her childhood years.

This is a topic that Ian attacks with some anger and much wit on her new album God & the FBI.

"There's got to be (humor). It's real easy to get bitter about something like that, especially when you realize that's why your dad didn't get tenure, or your mom didn't get a job," she says. "But I think that kind of bitterness kills art."

Fortunately, Ian sees the ridiculousness in a man with shiny shoes and a tie trying to look inconspicuous on a chicken farm.

"There is a little ludicrousness to it," says Ian.

Ian plans to feature songs from God & the FBI when she appears in Andover with legendary songwriter Tom Rush this weekend.

Rush is bringing his popular, traveling Club 47 show to Andover's Collins Center this Saturday, May 13. Tickets are still available.

Rush and Ian have done about a dozen of these shows together, and typically include one or two lesser known performers on stage with them.

For the Andover show, Rush took the unusual step of holding open auditions. Out of Lions and coloring books and more — Laura Goldstein with some of the materials she uses to help kids cope with a parent's illness.

Teen feels their pain, does something about it

Laura Goldstein leads the pack of Andover's presence at the upcoming Sports for Life benefit for Holy Family Hospital's Cancer Management Center.

Laura, 15, and a sophomore at Andover High, is honorary chairperson for the event, which is set for Sunday, May 21. It's a 5K walk and run and also includes a 20-mile bike ride. This is the 15th year for the popular event. Organizers hope to raise about $250,000.

Laura got involved because of her experience with cancer. Her mother, Janice, had breast cancer, which has been in remission since 1994.

Laura was just a 9-year-old when the diagnosis was made. She remembers those days of feeling afraid that her mother was going to die.

Since then, she's made a decision to get involved with kids and cancer, focusing on helping children in situations similar to hers.

Laura made news last year when she landed a $3,000 grant in a contest that challenged 100 entrants to "make the world a better place." She designed breast-cancer awareness kits for children of patients at Boston hospitals. The kits included coloring books, crayons, candy, a journal and a personalized letter from Laura telling them to stay strong and reminding them "it's all right to cry."

The American Cancer Society was so impressed with the kits that they recently awarded Laura a $30,000 grant to make some 2,000 kits for distribution at three Boston hospitals.

She is working with CLASS Inc. students, who will assemble the kits while John Morrissey of American Foods will supply the candy. His wife died of ovarian cancer.

In addition, Goldstein has been busy organizing a high-school team to participate in Sports for Life.

Cancer is a subject close to home at Andover High. Principal Larry Robinson died of cancer last year. "I'm running in his memory," Laura said, adding that classmates will be joining her.

Also taking part is Robinson's widow, Vicki Simms, principal of Andover's West Middle School. She will be walking alongside Robinson's mother, who is coming up

NEWS IN BRIEF

Disability meeting

Andover's Commission on Disabilities will host the state Office on Disability 2000 Northeast Massachusetts regional meeting next Wednesday, May 17, at Memorial Hall Library, from 2-5 p.m. Entertainment will be provided by an Andover disability-awareness group called Kids on the Block, which uses puppets to make its points.

Breakfast with reps

The 8th annual state representatives breakfast with Thomas Finneran, Speaker of the House, will be held Friday, May 12 at the Indian Ridge Country Club on Lovejoy Road.

Tickets are available from the Merrimack Valley Chamber of Commerce for $15 per person or $100 per table of eight.

Those attending include Rep. Barry Finegold of Andover, Rep. Arthur Broadhurst of Methuen, Rep. Brian Dempsey of Haverhill, Rep. Kevin Finnigan of Newburyport, Rep. Brad

Jones of North Reading, Rep. David Nangle of Lowell, Rep. Jose Santiago of Lawrence, Rep. Harriett Stanley of Merrimack and Rep. David Torrisi of North Andover. Call 686-0900.

ConsCom overseers

The Andover Conservation Commission will hold a meeting of the Conservation Overseers tonight, Thursday, May 11, from 7 to 9 in the School Committee conference room. Current overseers and those seeking more information are encouraged to attend.

Overseers volunteer as "the eyes and ears" of the Conservation Commission for the nearly 1,000 acres of town-owned conservation land, according to Gail Ralston, overseer coordinator for the commission. Representatives of the Andover police department will be taking ID pictures for those overseers who do not currently have identification cards.

For more information, or for an overseer application, contact Ralston at 623-0962 or the commission at 623-8311.

Stars, stripes forever

Local veterans and scouts will place 2,800 American flags on veteran graves in Andover on Sunday, May 21 at 11 a.m. Participants are asked to meet at the parking lot between Town Offices and the Park at 11 a.m. The public is welcome to attend. Call John Doherty at 623-8218.

Tucker honored for prevention efforts

State Sen. Sue Tucker was honored Monday, May 8 at a Statehouse ceremony, recognizing her leadership and commitment on the issue of suicide prevention. Greg Miller, head of the Merrimack Valley Samaritans and the Mass. Alliance of Samaritan Services, presented the award.

Tucker's office hours

State Sen. Sue Tucker announced she will hold her monthly office hours at Memorial Hall Library on Tuesday, May 16 from 7 to 8 p.m.

Residents may also contact Tucker at her Statehouse office by calling (617) 722-1612.

Web question

Last week's question on the Townsman's Web page was: How would you rate your neighborhood?

The online response as of early Wednesday was spread among several answers, with one-third of all voters saying they don't know some of their neighbors' names. Thirty percent of voters said their neighborhood is "very friendly," 30 percent said they say "Hi" at the mailbox, and only 7 percent said their neighborhood has obvious problems.

This week's question is: Should the town provide a list of what services will most likely be cut if Question 1 fails?

Surf to www.andovertownsman.com and cast your vote.

Simms reserved two buses for the event. West students are now required to perform five hours of community service each of their three years at the school.

Many will take part in this event to satisfy that requirement, while others are more like Laura. They want to make the world a better place and see this event as a way to achieve that.

question of "What did you do at school today?" is answered with a giggly smile and an "I can't tell you" from young children.

It's the week before Mother's Day and youngsters have been busy with their surprise projects for Mom.

There is sure to be the usual collection of macaroni necklaces, popsicle stick pins and uniquely colored flower pots being oohed and ahed over on Sunday morning all around town.

But local schools and pre-schools also have all sorts of other interesting ways to show Mom just how important she is. Here is a sampling:

Mothers with children at Learning Jamboree, a pre-school on Harding Street serving six toddlers, will be treated to a tot-cooked breakfast tomorrow. Armed with a shopping list, the 4-year-olds recently hiked to Market Basket to pick up the necessary items certain to make their meal a success. The menu calls for fresh-squeezed orange juice, fresh fruit kabobs, home-made granola and baked eggs florentine.

Wearing chef hats and aprons the youngsters will eagerly await their mothers' selections.

"They become the waiters and waitresses right down to cleaning the tables after the breakfast is over," said Linda Hamilton of Learning Jamboree. "(The) children present their home-made gifts to their moms, followed by lots of hugs and kisses, because, isn't that what it is all about?"

There are sure to be lots of hugs from the winner of a raffle at the Shawsheen Extended Day program (SHED) which is being held just in time for Mother's Day. A white chocolate spring house, similar to a gingerbread house, is being raffled for $5 a chance. It was made by Annette Grams of Andover whose daughter, Lauren, attends SHED. Proceeds benefit the SHED playground.

At Andover Children's Academy on Brookside Drive, preschoolers in Lisa Marconi's class have been busy covering small cardboard boxes with studded jewels. Their moms will be getting the new jewelry box along with a plant in a home-made pot.

Like Hamilton said, there are sure to be lots of hugs and kisses.

At St. Robert's Pre-School on Haggetts Pond Road, the 72 students have been doing their best to keep secret about their homemade place-mats. Students there laminated pictures centered around the theme

"what Mom means to me."

"One child's answer was 'I love you Mom because you make great macaroni and cheese,'" said Director Pam Galvin. "The children really take pride in what they've done."

At Bancroft School author and illustrator Jerry Pallotta visited earlier this week and inspired the writing and drawings for Mother's Day books made by students.

"Jerry is known for his alphabet books and students were inspired to select adjectives for every letter of the alphabet to describe their moms. Then, they made bound books," said assistant principal Brenda O'Brien. "I am curious to see what the first graders came up with for the letter Z."

Andoverites make big-buck 'Boston' list

The latest issue of Boston Magazine ranks the 100 wealthiest people in Massachusetts. Out of the top five, three are Andoverites.

At No. 3 is Guraraj Deshpande, co-founder and chairman of Sycamore Networks. He is worth $7.3 billion, despite a recent $100 million gift to India Institute of Technology. He also founded Cascade Communications, which ranks second only to EMC with the highest market value in Massachusetts.

Daniel Smith, president and CEO of Sycamore, ranks fourth on Boston Magazine's list. He came out of retirement to head Sycamore and is now worth $6.6 billion.

Rounding out the top five, at No. 5, is David Wetherell, chairman and CEO of CMGI. The former schoolteacher is worth an estimated $4.9 billion, thanks in part to the 4,000 percent rise in CMGI stock.

Others on the list included Peter Lynch of Fidelity fame, and Barry and Eliot from Jordan's furniture.

Lindsay the right prescription

Dr. Richard Lindsay will be honored for his devotion to Andover's community. The Distinguished Citizen Award, presented by the Yankee Clipper Council of the Boy Scouts of America, will be presented on Thursday, May 25, at a 6 p.m. reception at the Rolling Green Country Club.

Lindsay is the president of the Andover Animal Hospital, Inc., but volunteers in numerous capacities throughout the community. He is on the board of development for Phillips Academy, has served with the Men's Auxiliary at Holy Family Hospital, offered his time for the Merrimack Valley United Way, and the Massachusetts Society to Prevent Cruelty to Children. He has served on local bank boards and is past president of both the New England Veterinary Medical Association and the Massachusetts Veterinary Medical Association.

Richard Lindsay

"He just does everything for everybody," according to his daughter, Diane Tower.

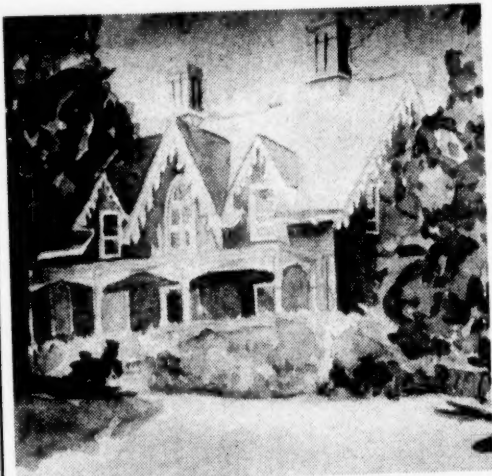

Katharine Rodger, dean of the Lawrence campus of Northern Essex Community College, and Fred P. Shaheen, treasurer of the Shaheen Brothers, will also be honored at the celebration.

Tickets for the event are $100 per person and can be purchased by calling (978) 777-4333.

The Distinguished Citizen Award is presented to people who show a genuine concern for others, serve the community unselfishly and live by the ideals of Scouting: loyalty, helpfulness, friendliness, kindness, obedience, cheerfulness, thriftiness, bravery, cleanliness and reverence.

Support for family of teen who lost battle with depression

We buried 17-year-old Jeffrey McKay Diamond Tuesday, in the cemetery behind Christ Church on Central Street, Jeff's home parish. He was the second son of the Very Rev. James A. Diamond, former rector of Christ Church and now dean of Christ Church Cathedral in depression Tuesday, May 2, when he took his own life. In the death notice in a daily newspaper, Jeff's parents added that he died "after a brave battle with depression."

The front six pews at Christ Church were reserved Tuesday for Jeff's friends from Phillips Academy, where Jeff attended school before moving to Cincinnati with his parents last September. There were more than 75 Phillips students there, young, vulnerable, beautiful kids, like Jeff, crammed 11 and 12 to a pew, looking out for one another, offering tissues and pats on the back when it became too much to bear.

Phillips Academy celebrated Jeff's life last Friday at a service in Cochran Chapel where his lacrosse coach, Meredith Price, his English teacher, Jeanne St. Pierre, and some of his friends spoke in tribute.

Jeff was born in 1982 in Danvers. He attended Pike School, Phillips Academy and he was a junior at Cincinnati Country Day School when he died. He was happiest on the lacrosse field, according to his family, and he liked the Dave Matthews Band and Phish concerts. He took comfort from his family, his two Labrador retrievers and his friends, his parents said.

He voted for the first time in the March presidential primary and he had been looking forward to voting in the general election in November.

Christ Church was overflowing Tuesday, with people standing in the side aisles. The choir was never larger, and many of the Diamonds' friends had returned to help them bear their pain. Because Jim Diamond has many friends in the Episcopal diocese, there were several clergy attending, including the Rt. Rev. Thomas Shaw, Episcopal bishop of Massachusetts.

Rabbi Robert S. Goldstein of Temple Emanuel, a close friend of the Diamonds, gave a prayer of blessing.

In his homily, the Rev. Jeffrey H. Gill, a personal friend of the Diamonds, began with a prayer for God to "hear the groaning in our hearts and turn them into faith, hope and love." He called Jeff "popular, fun loving and competent." And that's the way we all remember him.

Jeff was an avid Red Sox fan and more than one adult remembers taking Jeffrey to a game, Rev. Gill and my husband included.

Jeff was an outgoing, friendly kid and those his age, as well as his parents' ages, were attracted to him. I remember singing in the choir a few times at Christ Church, and Jeff often sang alto with us.

Rev. Gill told us Jeff attended a dance Friday. Photos taken that night that showed an up, happy Jeff, he said. Sometime between that night and Tuesday, a "dark cloud" must have taken over Jeff, Rev. Gill said. "Jeff suffered from disease," he added.

As much as we are all aching and suffering from the death of a loving, wonderfully talented young man, "the temptation we must avoid," said Rev. Gill, "is to make Jeff a hero. Jeff made a choice last Tuesday.

"Too many young people are dying," he said.

And he urged the Phillips students at the service "to check your expectations. See if you're being too hard on yourselves. Be kind to yourselves."

Rev. Gill said it's OK to feel some anger that Jeff got sick and that we couldn't cure him and that he made the choice he made.

Really, there's just about no comfort we can offer in a death like Jeff's. Burying a 17-year-old is crushing, especially when he is lovable and talented and especially when you love his parents as much as we all have.

Our only choice is to listen to the kind and wise words of Rabbi Goldstein:

"May the source of life, the fountain of all being, open our hearts

Williams looks to be one mom in a million Sunday

This Mother's Day, some Andover moms will do more than have brunch. On Sunday, May 14, they'll join thousands of other women from across the country converging on the Mall in Washington, D.C. for the Million Mom March, an event aimed at convincing Congress "common-sense gun control" is necessary.

Andover mother-of-three Lisa Williams will be making the trip along with some friends. "When I was a schoolgirl, I was worried about clothes and boys. I was never worried about my physical safety. I don't want kids to worry about that," she says. "I was tired of feeling helpless each time another school shooting was reported by the media."

According to Donna Dees-Thomases, New Jersey mom and event organizer, 12 children die every day from gunshot wounds. "This is not about banning guns," she says on her Web site. "The Million Mom March is about common-sense gun laws — specifically... laws requiring all gun owners be licensed and registered, including mandatory safety training." Dees-Thomases organized the event after seeing the shooting at the California Jewish day-care center on television last August.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and the National Center for Health, gun violence was second only to car accidents as the leading cause of death for people aged 15-24 in 1997.

Talk show host Rosie O'Donnell will emcee Sunday's event. The program includes speakers, including victims, Congresswoman Carolyn McCarthy (D-NY), entertainment, inter-faith religious services and family activities. Organizers point out the significance of marching on Mother's Day.

"Mother's Day began in 1872 as a tribute to mothers who lost sons during the Civil War," explains Williams.

For more information, call Lisa Williams at 975-1841.

Senior center effort laudable

As Andover prepares to build a number of other facilities, senior citizen advocates continue trying to privately raise the money needed to create a new senior center.

For this, they deserve the entire town's appreciation and admiration.

Knowing Andover taxpayers can only afford so much, this group is tackling the problem on its own. As a result, they're providing a much-needed lesson in selflessness and self-reliance.

Businesses and individuals who support the Will Hall site and the plan to lease it for a senior center, should support the seniors financially.

If the senior advocates can raise the necessary money, and build a new center at Phillips, all Andover residents will be much in their debt.

... but town can't wear blinders

But, on Monday, selectmen received their first update in several months regarding the fundraising efforts to turn Phillips Academy's Williams Hall into Andover's next senior center.

Selectmen learned that the Friends fundraising group has privately raised just $387,000 since 1996, when it received a gift of $100,000 from Andover Home for Aged People to "kick start" their large-scale fundraising.

Seniors deserve some more time to pull together the necessary dough. Now that they have architectural plans in hand, it should be easier, they say.

But senior advocates have given similar assurances before. Last September, when the town approved the lease for Will Hall, Friends member Doreen Correnti said, "I do not see any obstacles in the way (of fundraising)."

So selectmen must keep close watch of the fundraising efforts. They should lend seniors whatever support they can. But if by the end of the summer the seniors are not appreciably closer to their goal, selectmen owe it to all the seniors in town to form another plan.

The seniors deserve a center. If, by fall, it's clear it's not going to work at Will Hall, then the selectmen shouldn't let too many more months slip away.

Coalition calls for 'yes,' 'yes,' 'yes'

Editor, Townsmen:

Common concerns and commitment to the quality of life in Andover have resulted in a coalition of the Andover Education Association, the Andover Fire Fighters' Union, the Andover Police Patrolmen's Union, Andover Police Superior Officers' Association, and Yes for Education and Schools, a political action committee formed by parents and other citizens.

We believe the future of our community is at stake on May 23, when the voters of Andover will determine how the new public safety center will be funded and if a new elementary school and a new middle school will be built.

The members of these five organizations are committed to quality public services and quality education in Andover, now and in the future. We believe that funding the safety center by debt exclusion will ensure that all town departments can continue to provide the high level of services our growing population demands. We also believe that the new elementary and middle schools will not only eliminate the current severely overcrowded conditions, but will ensure the continuation of quality education that the families of Andover want for their children. Quality services and quality education are reflected in Andover's property values and reputation as a desirable place to live.

We encourage the citizens of Andover to join with us in support of these projects so crucial to the quality of life in our community, and we urge them to vote "yes," on Questions 1, 2 and 3 on Tuesday, May 23.

Selectman eyes 'yes' selections

Editor, Townsmen:

I strongly support Questions 1, 2 and 3 on the May 23 Andover debt-exclusion ballot. The projects associated with these three questions are very important to the safety of our citizens and the education of our children.

Question 1 provides an alternative funding source for the construction of the public safety center. A "yes" vote permits the funding of this construction project from outside of the town's levy capacity. A "no" vote requires the town to fund the construction within the levy capacity, which all negatively effect the school and town operating budgets.

Questions 2 and 3 provide the funding sources to construct the new schools (including sewer line) and its surrounding sidewalks, respectively. A "yes" vote permits these projects to be completed. A "no" vote eliminates these projects and requires the town to seek other alternatives to resolve our classroom overcrowding problems.

Please vote "yes" on Questions 1, 2 and 3.

'Tiger' remembered

Editor, Townsmen:

The recent death of Larry "Tiger" Lynch brought back many memories for this writer and I am sure to many others who played football and baseball at Pynchard High School during the mid '50s.

Larry Lynch was a legend whose feats on the playing fields of the '50s are still recalled today. Just ask Bill Vickers, Ed Dwyer, Sonny Thompson, Frank Dyer, Bert Damon and those others who had the opportunity to be a teammate of Tiger Lynch. His loyalty and dedication to his teammates was without exception or compromise; Larry had a special talent for lifting the spirit of an entire team or a single individual.

I do not think he ever weighed more than 175 pounds and was about five-foot, 10-inches in height. But he had the heart of a lion and the courage of many men. He neither recognized nor accepted defeat and played with a unique intensity which can only be described as ferocious; hence the appellation Tiger.

I am going to miss Larry Lynch but will continue to enjoy sharing memories of his special talents and accomplishments with our surviving teammates and friends.

Power of opposition strong on Nickel Hill

Editor, Townsmen:

I applaud voting members of this community, our Selectmen, FinCom and especially Merrimack Valley residents for the Environment (MVRE) for their efforts and success in passing Article 72 at Town Meeting.

I was inspired and alarmed by the remarks of Mrs. Sheryl Poole, on behalf of MVRE. Her words heightened my interest in and awareness of the far-reaching implications of the Nickel Hill Power Plant proposal. Her commentary was compelling and a definitive "call to arms" to ensure necessary and scrupulous oversight of the Nickel Hill proposal and the imminent environmental threat this project poses to our community and the Merrimack Valley.

I was therefore confused and dismayed by the Townsmen's coverage of Article 72 ("Town approves legal help for Nickel Hill project," May 4). Gosh, even the headline sounds pro-plant. In the article, Judy Wakefield suggests that the Nickel Hill proposal is a fait accompli. The legal funds allocated are there to ensure "that if the plant is built, it is done so in a way that will have the least environmental and public health impacts on Andover."

I left Town Meeting with a far more urgent message: that the MVRE opposes the permitting and building of the Nickel Hill Power Plant as it will significantly pollute our community and region. Their data is truly alarming. The appropriation

'No' vote championed

Force leadership to cut

Editor, Townsmen:

I would like to voice my opinion regarding the upcoming Proposition 2½ override. It is important to understand that three separate items are being voted on.

Question 1 pertains to the funding of the safety center. A "yes" vote allows for town government to raise our taxes to pay for the project; a "no" vote requires the selectmen to cut the budget by approximately $1 million.

Questions 2 and 3 pertain to the new schools. A "yes" vote adds to our taxes; a "no" vote puts the projects on hold.

In my opinion, the schools should be paid for by an override, but Question 1 presents us with an interesting opportunity — fiscal responsibility. A "no" vote will force the selectmen to do something I believe they are not willing to do — make some tough and necessary decisions to trim the excesses from our overblown budget in order to finance the construction of the safety center.

Our present budget of $90 million has increased an alarming 30 percent since 1997. A $1 million cutback would be approximately a 1-percent decrease, i.e. every department would have to give back $1 for every $100 allotted to them in their operating budget. The prevailing attitude by our selectmen is one of doom — layoffs in school and town departments have been threatened by one of our selectmen. I am personally tired of these unsubstantiated remarks and challenge the selectmen to provide the public with the details of who/what positions would be cut if Question 1 is not passed. Leadership involves making tough decisions. The Finance Committee are on record stating that by 2003 we will have to vote an override just to allow for financing our operating budget.

This is simply irresponsible.

Of course the easy way out is for all of us to hold hands, skip down Main Street, raise taxes and let future residents worry about our fiscal irresponsibility. There exists a lot of money in Andover, but not everyone can withstand the continued raising of taxes without experiencing financial stress. Make no mistake, our budget is fat and has room for reasonable cuts — just ask the Finance Committee.

Voting "no" on Question 1 does not stop the building of our safety center, but rather will force us to scrutinize our budget and construct the center with the financial means already at our disposal, without mortgaging the future.

Thomas Cody

is intended to, at the very least, ensure full and complete disclosure on the part of Nickel Hill and preserve our right to due process during this critical permitting stage. If full disclosure cannot be achieved or our right to due process is compromised the plant should not be built. I left Town Meeting with resolve that the MVRE is onto something that will impact every citizen in this community and I had better pay closer attention and stand up and be counted.

My thanks are extended to MVRE for bringing this very important issue to the forefront. I encourage them to use whatever funds are available to keep the community informed of their findings and progress. Perhaps a paid advertisement in the Townsmen will ensure a more balanced perspective on this issue.

Say 'yes' to services

Editor, Townsmen:

I would like to take this opportunity to encourage townspeople to vote "yes" at the special election on May 23. An affirmative vote on Questions 1 and 2 is imperative. It's been about 35 years since the last new school was built in Andover, and at that time West Andover was mostly farm country and West Elementary and Sanborn could accommodate children from that area. Now there are no farms but hundreds of homes, most with children and a real need for the new schools at Cross Street and High Plain Road.

The new safety center is long overdue. We may have the highest paid police department in the state, but our police and fire stations are a disgrace and testimony to the shortsightedness of past officials.

However, most important is the lasting and even dangerous threat that lack of a "yes" majority could mean. True, taxes will rise, but they will decline again. A "no" majority will pose a real threat to our town in that it will be reflected in future departmental budgets starting next year. The budget for elder services is already too little to fully provide for today's elderly — what of those 60-years-old and older seniors of 2003 or 2005? Will it mean no Meals on Wheels for the home-bound, doubling or tripling the cost of daily lunches at the center, plus the loss of many of the vital services now offered? If our services are slashed, our aid from the state will drop. As for the police and fire budgets, in case of illness, do you want well-trained EMTs to respond, or just an ambulance driver? What about floods, fires, "acts of God," or natural disasters? Do you call for help from well-trained, dedicated personnel with working equipment, or volunteers with good intentions, who are largely poorly trained?

Please vote "yes" on Questions 1 and 2, at least. Sidewalks can wait; humans can't.

Dorothy L. Bresnahan
7 Argyle St.

LWV wants debt-exclusion 'yes,' too

Editor, Townsmen:

To the voters of Andover:

Tuesday, May 23 is the day the special election in Andover. We are being asked to decide on the funding for three projects already approved at Town Meeting: the new public safety center, the new elementary and middle schools, and the sidewalks in the neighborhood of the new schools.

You can impact the future of Andover. Your vote makes a difference. Several recent elections were very close as were some of the Town Meeting votes. Democracy is participatory. Please take the time to vote. If you will be out of town, you can arrange for an absentee ballot by contacting the town clerk.

In keeping with our voter-service mission, the League of Women Voters would like to provide the following information about the consequences of a yes or no vote on the three questions before us. Since actual debt schedules are dependent upon interest rates and building schedules, tax and budget impact figures are estimates.

Question 1, public safety center. This center was approved at last year's Town Meeting and will be built. Our vote will determine how we pay for it. A yes vote agrees to the debt-exclusion method and means the town will collect taxes over and above the Proposition 2½ levy limit that funds our regular operating budgets.

A "yes" vote would raise our average annual taxes approximately $20 in 2001, rising to $78 in 2003 and then declining gradually for the life of the bond (probably 20 years).

A "yes" vote would follow in the tradition of our other major recent building project — the 1994 school program — which was funded with a debt exclusion.

A "no" vote means the town cannot collect additional taxes but must fund the project from within the Proposition 2½ levy limit.

A "no" vote means approximately $280,000 in 2001 rising to over $1 million in 2002 until 2005 and then declining gradually for the life of the bond would have to be assigned from the annual operating budget to pay for the safety center.

That annual amount would then not be available to pay for other operating budget items such as school and town staff, benefits, pay increases, services and

By Jennifer Valeri

Former Andover resident Bruce Johnson has helped develop many of the advances in the imaging industry during the past 38 years.

Johnson, an engineering fellow at Polaroid, holds close to 140 patents, a record at Polaroid second only to the company's founder, Edwin Land, who invented the instant photograph. Howie Rogers, an engineer who worked under Land, reportedly has a similarly high number of achievements in the chemical-patent field.

Johnson was recently honored by the imaging industry for his career at Polaroid. He received the Photoimaging Manufacturers and Distributors Association's Technical Achievement Award, for advances in photographic science.

Since 1962, Johnson has worked for Polaroid, designing and improving most of the consumer cameras on the market today.

"I went to work at Polaroid right out of college," said Johnson, who lived in Andover for 30 years and still has family here. "My father liked to take Polaroid pictures and it seemed like a neat company. When I started, Polaroid was alive and well, but it was a laborious process to take a picture. It took 10, 12 steps. We had to change to appeal to a mass market, needed to make it cost less and (be) more user friendly, and that's really been my prime focus."

For close to 10 years, Johnson has focused on digital-imaging technology. One recent accomplishment is the ColorShot Printer, touted as the world's quickest printer, with patented optics able to produce photographic images in less than 30 seconds.

The transition from traditional cameras to digital was a welcome change for Johnson.

"With the shutter and lens system, I felt like I was running out of technological advances," he said. "Digital offers a whole new realm of solutions. You can take a picture, preview it, and if you like it print one, two, three or a dozen copies. Thirty-five millimeter is taking a back-seat to digital, but people still like a hard copy. They want to hold a photo, put them in albums."

As for the inventing process, Johnson said it's all trial and error. "It's a messy process," he said. "You really take the products, test them with people, take them home, see how they get along, see what mistakes happen. Those test drives, they give you the ideas when you see what the problems are and what new technology has developed to solve the problems."

Today, Johnson said the technological field operates on a far more global level than years ago. When he began, many of the advances came from Polaroid and were designed and manufactured in-house.

"Now we use technology from small start-up companies all over the world," he said. "It is a smarter way, but a way we wouldn't have dreamed of 10 years ago."

For the future, Johnson said his focus is still the same after 38 years. "We keep alive as a company by producing instant pictures, on the spot," he said. "We need to play with it and find new solutions. I'm still having fun doing it."

Johnson now lives in North Andover.

Spring grants awarded by AFE

The Andover Fund for Education has announced the recipients of its spring grants. Awards will go toward exploring Andover's history, meeting professional authors, team-building through tent-building, celebrating reading, producing a Shakespeare play and integrating digital camera technology into daily learning, all of which are innovative projects enriching the core curriculum, organizers said.

Teachers supported by AFE grants include Stephen Zrike, Melissa Nussbaum and the third-grade teaching team, and Beth Kennedy and the first-grade teaching team for three separate projects, all at South School. In addition, Justine Quimby of Bancroft School, Etta Wagner of West Middle School and Kerry Costello of the Andover Education Association all received grants.

Money was raised for these grants by the AFE through its annual Spelling Bee held last month and through other fund-raising efforts.

AVIS and the Andover Historical Society along with the AFE are supporting Stephen Zrike and his classes in learning about Andover's history. A highlight of the program will be a walk through Indian Ridge led by Susan Lenoe highlighting Alice Buck's contributions to Andover and the historical significance of the area.

Melissa Nussbaum, Tori Lambert, Heather Conn, Jamie Lynch and Shelia Eckoff teach their third-graders outdoors in a tent for a week. In addition to covering their traditional curriculum, visitors from New England Alive and the Fire Department come to share in learning about animals and the natural environment. A major element of this outdoor classroom is learning about group collaboration through assembling a tent in which their class is conducted. Each day the teachers time the students to see how quickly the tent can be set up. The class discusses what worked well and what they can do better to improve their time the following day. Funding from the AFE will allow the team to purchase new tents.

Beth Kennedy, Faith Goldstein, and Winnie Schwartz of South School will pilot a program to integrate digital cameras into their first-grade classrooms. By having digital cameras in their classrooms, Kennedy says, "the special moment of discovery" can be recorded. From using photographs of the children in class to inspire writing to taking pictures of weather and nature to reinforce their observations, the cameras will become an integral to all aspects of the first-grade program.

Jerry Pallotta, a Massachusetts native and author of more than 20 books, will join the students at Bancroft school to share his experience and expertise as a published author. Each class will hear Pallotta talk about books he has written appropriate to that grade. In addition, the students are creating their own alphabet books directly related to their curriculum.

Shakespeare comes alive in Andover with West Middle School's eighth-grade production of Midsummer Night's Dream. Eighth-grade students will not only become Shakespearean actors, but will also expand their artistic and carpentry skills in creating backdrops, their business skills through advertising the production and their organizational skills in bringing the production to the stage for the school and the community. This is just one of the literary pieces to be studied in a new English curriculum at West Middle School next year. Look for announcements of this fun production next fall.

Read Across America continues to be enjoyed by students throughout Andover as it promotes the love of reading. A highlight of the program this year was an evening of reading activity at West Middle School. Students made bookmarks, Cat in the Hat hats from paper bags and their own reading pins.

The Andover Fund for Education is a non-profit organization founding in 1991 to support Andover's public schools. Twice each year the group disburses grants to Andover teachers for innovative projects that go beyond the scope of the school budget. More than 50 grants have been awarded. For more information, contact the grant coordinator Kate Marquise at 686-7918.

Richard Lavoie featured speaker for PAC meeting

Richard Lavoie, an expert in the field of learning disabilities, will be the speaker at Andover 766 PAC's fund-raiser Wednesday, May 31 at 7 p.m. at the Doherty Middle School auditorium.

Lavoie has served as a consultant on learning disabilities to several agencies, including PBS, the New York Times, Girl Scouts of America, and Child magazine. Lavoie is probably best known for the award-winning video, The F.A.T. City Workshop, among others, according to organizers.

Tickets for Lavoie's presentation, "On the Waterbed: The Learning-Disabled Child at Home and in the Classroom" may be purchased at the Andover Bookstore, 89R Main St. Call 475-0807 for more information.

Tickets are also available through the mail. Write to: Andover 766 PAC, PO Box 1641, Andover, 01810. Include a self-addressed envelope.

Two finalists for Shawsheen School principalship named

The Andover Public Schools announced that there are two finalists for the position of principal at Shawsheen School, to replace retiring principal Terry Murphy.

The principal-candidates are Brenda C. O'Brien, assistant principal of Bancroft Elementary School; and Christina M. Martin, principal of the Wyman School in Woburn.

Martin will visit Shawsheen School tomorrow, Friday, May 12. O'Brien visits the school on Monday, May 15.

Receptions for parents and community members will be held on those days from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. at the school. During that time, the public is invited to meet with the candidates.

At the end of each session, the public is encouraged to complete a candidate observation form summarizing one's thoughts and impressions about the candidate's potential match to the Shawsheen School community.

According to a release, "School Superintendent Dr. Claudia Bach reads and carefully considers parental input in making these important decisions."

O'Brien has been assistant principal of Bancroft Elementary since 1998. Before that, O'Brien worked as an educator in Andover for more than 20 years.

She began her teaching career in Wilmington in 1977 as a health teacher. In 1979, O'Brien accepted a position in Andover as the system-wide coordinator of health education resources. She oversaw the development and implementation of the health-education curriculum and taught health classes at all three levels: high school, middle school and elementary school. In 1993, her focus shifted to health education in grades K-5.

O'Brien received her bachelor of science in education from the University of Maryland and her master's degree in physiology from Rutgers University. In 1998, she completed her certificate of advanced graduate studies in educational leadership and innovative curriculum, and has done additional postgraduate work at University of Massachusetts and Fitchburg State.

Martin began her elementary teaching career with the Diocese of Fall River in 1963. From 1967-1976, she taught elementary school at the Mazapan School (a DOLE/Standard Fruit Co.-sponsored school) in La Ceiba, Honduras. In 1969, while still remaining a teacher, she was appointed as the K-12 principal of DOLE's elementary and secondary schools, where she served until 1981. Upon returning to the United States, Martin worked as an administrator for the Archdiocese of Boston, as an assistant principal at the Shurtliff School in Chelsea, and as the director of the METCO program for the Needham Public Schools.

Martin has been principal of the Wyman School in Woburn for the last seven years.

She received her bachelor of arts in elementary education from Salve Regina University, her master's in education, administration/curriculum from Rhode Island College, and her doctorate in education from Boston University. She has done postgraduate work at University of Alabama, and is an adjunct faculty member for Lesley College and Salem State graduate schools of education.

Reitman to stay at Sanborn

Jade Reitman, Sanborn School principal, will not be leaving her job to take a principalship in Boxford.

She was one of two finalists for the top job at Boxford's Spofford Pond School, but did not get the post. Spofford Pond is an elementary school for grades 3-6.

Instead, Boxford selected Barbara Wotherspoon, of Atkinson, N.H., a principal at Atkinson Academy for the past nine years.

Reitman, a Boxford resident, said she believes her address affected the final decision. Search committee members did not want a principal who was also a parent, she says.

"The other person doesn't have a child (attending that school) and my daughter will be attending that school," she says. "It played a role."

Reitman said she is not actively looking for a new job. Rather, the Boxford job was simply "too good to pass up."

When it opened up, friends told her about it and suggested she apply.

"It was close to home, offered a shorter school year and there are benefits to that for working parents," she says.

Spofford Pond is part of a tri-town district that includes six elementary schools in Boxford, Topsfield and Middleton, along with Masconomet Regional High School.

According to Bernard Creedon, superintendent of the district, there were 40 applicants for the job.

U.S. Rep. Marty Meehan, D-Lowell, has recommended Hunter Washburn, the son of Peter Washburn of Phillips Academy, for an appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy.

"We are fortunate to have such a committed young person from our area who wants to serve his country in the armed forces,"

Meehan said. "I am proud to nominate him for acceptance to the U.S. Air Naval Academy."

Meehan used a competitive process in selecting students for nomination, comparing them on the basis of academic standing, extracurricular activities, Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) scores and community service. The students now must compete against other seniors nominated from across the country for appointment to the academies.

Meehan nominated 23 students for the U.S. Naval Academy (Annapolis), U.S. Military Academy (West Point), U.S. Air Force Academy or U.S. Merchant Marine Academy.

created as well as completed work on display. Throughout the evening guests saw students in Grade 6-9 doing life drawings of one another and quick charcoal sketches. Among other things to see were painting with acrylics and watercolors, and ninth-graders doing studio photography. Potters were working with clay on the wheel and by hand.

Among items on display by youngsters in Pre-Kindergarten through Grade 5 were dinosaur murals and papier maché dinosaur eggs, Navajo sand paintings and paper bag owls. Most of the artwork for the younger students is coordinated with what they have studied in class. Fourth- and fifth-grade artists entertained guests with pastel drawings and making life masks.

Visitors were invited to join students in making crafts during the evening.

The event was a showcase for those in the performing arts as well as the fine arts. Throughout the evening there were performances by singers, dancers and instrumentalists.

Ongoing instruction in the arts is part of the curriculum for Pike students at every grade level from Pre-Kindergarten through Grade 9.

ON CAMPUS

Four Andover residents in the College of Arts and Science at the University of Delaware were named to the dean's list for the fall 1999 semester.

They are freshmen Lauren Victoria Davis of 12 Ravens Bluff, Meghan T. Gillespie of 19 Woodhaven Drive, and Susan Marie Provencher of 19 McKenney Circle; and junior Rachel Suzanne Newman of 4 Hampton Lane.

Four Andover students were named to the dean's list at University of Massachusetts Dartmouth. They are Adam P. Colucci, a music major; James N. Morgan, a business administration major; Pamela R. Muller and Mimi Ying, biology majors.

Elizabeth Collins of 12 Starr Avenue East, a fashion merchandising major at Johnson & Wales University in Providence, R.I., has been named to the dean's list for the fall 1999 term.

The following Andover High School graduates were named to the dean's list at Colby College in Waterville, Maine, for outstanding academic achievement during the fall 1999 semester:

• Karli A. Jaffe, a biology major, daughter of Frederick Jaffe and Myrna Zetlan;

• Debra T. Sabath, a psychology major, daughter of Jerrold and Catherine Sabath; and

• Allison M. MacRae, a biology major, daughter of Angus and Maureen MacRae.

Erin M. Brennan of Andover was named to the dean's list at Fitchburg State College in Fitchburg for the fall semester.

Meredith Affleck, the daughter of James and Diane Fagan Affleck of Whittier Street, has been named to the dean's list at Hamilton College in Clinton, N.Y., for the 1999 fall semester.

The sophomore is a graduate of Andover High School.

Dean's list students earn an average of 90 or above during the term.

Abandoned Baby May inspires bill

Finegold offers safe-haven legislation for infants

By Michelle Eld

Like most everyone else, Barry Finegold was alarmed after hearing on the news last week that a newborn girl — dubbed Baby May — was found abandoned in a hospital parking lot in Worcester.

The baby girl, weighing seven pounds, 11 ounces, was found alive wrapped in a towel inside a grocery bag, placed near the rear tires of a parked car.

The incident triggered an outpouring of requests from families looking to adopt Baby May. It also inspired Rep. Finegold, D-Andover, to do something about the issue of abandoned babies.

"There are so many families who want to have children but can't," said Finegold in a telephone interview. According to Finegold, about 200 families have come forward to adopt Baby May since she was found last week.

Late last week, Finegold, along with Rep. Harriette L. Chandler, D-Worcester, House Chair of the Joint Committee on Health Care, and members of the Lutheran Social Services and Children's Friends, announced he was filing the "Baby May" Bill, named in honor of the baby abandoned in Worcester. Since then, he said, the bill has gotten a lot of positive response from citizens.

But his proposed bill has met with much opposition from other state legislators, who say such a bill essentially encourages mothers to drop off their newborn infant with no fear of prosecution. In addition, critics say, churches and shelters have always been there — and will continue to be there — for mothers who feel they have no choice but to abandon their babies.

The safe-havens legislation is designed to provide an alternative for women considering abandoning their babies, according to proponents. If passed, the bill will allow those mothers to take the baby to a designated "safe haven," such as a fire station, police station or emergency room, where the parent can anonymously drop off the infant within 72 hours of birth.

Because most women who abandon their babies have not received the proper prenatal care or medical care during delivery, it's important that a doctor tends to the baby as soon as possible, according to Finegold's office.

While the mother won't have to give her name at the safe site, she will be questioned on her medical history. However, she can decide whether or not to answer. In any event, she will still be able to leave the infant.

The mother will be given an identification bracelet in case she decides to come back for her child within the legal time limit. That time limit has not yet been agreed upon, but could be between two and six months, said Finegold.

If the mother does come back to claim her baby, not only must she show the identification bracelet, she must also undergo DNA testing to positively link her to the infant.

A probate court judge will then have to rule whether reuniting the child with its birth mother is in the baby's best interests.

After dropped off at a safe haven site, a baby will be taken to a hospital for a checkup to ensure his or her health. If signs of abuse are present, the mother, if found, could be prosecuted for abuse and/or abandonment.

The Department of Social Services (DSS) must take custody of the infant within 24 hours of being dropped off at the safe site.

The baby will then be placed in a foster home. Families who have previously been approved to adopt will get preference. This way, if the infant is available for adoption later on, he or she will already have had time to bond with the family, according to Finegold's office.

If the bill is passed, DSS will get the word out about safe havens by distributing informative pamphlets at school clinics, reproductive clinics and youth centers.

Massachusetts is not the first state to tackle this issue. Finegold says Texas was the first state to enact the legislation, after 13 newborns were

Murnane named new fire chief

By Neil Fater

Deputy Fire Chief Charles "Chuck" Murnane followed in the footsteps of his father, grandfather and uncle when he joined the Andover fire department 31 years ago.

Next week, he could go where no Murnane has gone before — into the shoes of the Andover Fire Chief.

Town Manager Buzz Stapczynski has tapped Murnane as his choice to replace outgoing Fire Chief Harold Wright. Selectmen will vote on whether to approve Murnane at their next meeting.

According to Murnane, all three of his firefighting relatives served 33 years with the Andover department.

"My grandfather came right over here from Ireland and he spent all his time at the Ballardvale station," says Murnane. "My Uncle Jack is the one who's told me this. He says this year it's been 88 consecutive years that (Murnanes) have been on the fire department."

Murnane's father started as a call firefighter filling in for people, and worked his way up to the position of deputy chief, the position Chuck Murnane currently holds.

But it was not because of these family ties that Stapczynski says he selected Murnane.

"It was the package of experience and education that he has, weighed against the challenges he'll face," says Stapczynski.

Andover did an exclusively in-house search and had five firefighters apply for the position. Stapczynski says Murnane was uniquely qualified to oversee the department as it shifts from its current downtown center to its new center.

Stapczynski says only Murnane and the current chief have completed the Chief Fire Officer Management Training Program conducted through UMass Amherst.

Murnane graduated from Andover High School in 1965, served in the Air Force, and later earned an associate's degree in fire science from

'It was the package of experience and education that he has, weighed against the challenges he'll face.'

— Buzz Stapczynski, town manager

North Shore Community College.

During his time in the fire department he has worked 12 years as a fire-prevention official and two years as a shift deputy, says Stapczynski. He says Murnane's time in fire prevention, which works hand-in-hand with the community development and planning department, gave him "knowledge of construction and the building industry."

"You can't minimize that exposure, and the type of duty he did in fire prevention," says Stapczynski.

"The deputies have different assignments. I've been working on (the building project) with the chief for a little over a year," says Murnane.

With a truck and ambulance moving to Spring Grove cemetery temporarily, fire officials expected to share space with police, and the West Andover station housing another ambulance during the planned construction, the next chief will have a lot to coordinate.

"There's a lot of work. At any of the stations, it's not going to be too comfortable, for a year to 15 months, but when this station is done it's going to be awesome," says Murnane, who says town officials have done what they can to avoid any problems with the construction project itself.

"We've gotten down to looking at everything (including) where the outlets are going. We don't want any change orders or anything, if we can help it," he says.

The 'Baby May' Bill

Here are some facts about the "Baby May" Bill, according to Rep. Barry Finegold's office.

- ▶ A baby can be dropped off at any fire station, police station or emergency room within 72 hours of birth.
- ▶ The mother will remain anonymous, but she will be asked medical-history questions that she can decide to answer.
- ▶ The mother will be given an identification bracelet to link her to the baby in the event she decides to return for the baby within the specified legal time period. This time frame has not yet been set.
- ▶ The baby will be treated at a nearby hospital and must be in the custody of a Department of Social Services (DSS) within 24 hours of being dropped off at a safe site.
- ▶ DSS will then place the infant with a foster family (preference will be given to homes already approved to adopt).

Caught trying to beat the clock?

A TAD Staffing Services employee who allegedly inflated the number of hours he worked on his time card during a five-month period, collected nearly $6,800 more than he deserved.

But in addition to piling up the cash, the man was also piling up the larceny charges.

As a result, Steven Coutts, 41, of 42 Danforth Court, Haverhill, will be charged with 17 counts of larceny over $250, one count of larceny under $250, one count of larceny by false pretense and 18 counts of uttering a false writing, say Andover police.

Although a summons has been issued, Andover Lieutenant Kevin Winters said Monday a court date had not yet been determined.

Officer David Milne said he issued a summons after leaving several unanswered messages for Coutts at his last known address.

Milne said Coutts was not the first employee to collect money illegally by altering his time card. Another TAD employee allegedly collected about $50,000 illegally by falsifying time cards in November 1999, he says.

Coutts has been fired from TAD, say police.

A TAD office supervisor reported to police on April 28 that Coutts had filed erroneous time cards between Nov. 21 and April 23.

His alleged actions allowed him to collect an extra $6,790.64, she said.

The supervisor said she recently confronted Coutts, who explained what he had done, says a police report.

The supervisor told police that Coutts said he would complete his time cards properly and have his manager verify the cards and sign them. Later, Coutts would erase the number of hours he had worked, and replace the number with a higher amount. Coutts then faxed these falsified time cards to a corporate office, said the supervisor.

Coutts worked for TAD Staffing at 3000 Minuteman Drive.

Senior center update

"My sense is you really feel you have your feet under you," said Selectman Mary French. "You really feel you're on solid ground."

Earlier in the presentation, architect Henry Moss told selectmen his plan for the site was also to keep it on solid ground. Moss says he wants to level slopes on the site to eliminate any need for significant numbers of stairs or wheelchair ramps.

He says he will not demolish as much of the back of the building as he originally thought, and will create two parking lots.

All of this is contingent on Phillips officials' approving the designs. They are expected to eye Moss's work in mid-June.

As an older building, Williams Hall has a look that many senior centers want to imitate, but can't because of cost constraints, says Moss.

"We realized this house brought with it some great gifts," says Moss. "These are attributes that other senior centers we visit do not have."

He says he sees other towns "trying to fabricate... what this house brings with it."

Money matters

Before seniors can renovate Will Hall, however, they must raise the money to do so.

Including the $500,000 Town Meeting gift, fundraisers say they have collected $887,000, or 21 percent of the money they need.

"They have been for several months doing initial fundraising," says Council on Aging head Jeanne Madden. "They have come up with what I consider a fairly sizable amount, predesign."

Phil Tuminelli, project manager, said the first cost estimates for the renovation proposal have also come in. But when asked by Selectmen found abandoned in a 10-month period in Houston.

While there are no specific statistics as to the number of infants who are abandoned each year, Finegold said "one is too many."

The Baby May case in Worcester could have been a tragedy, said Finegold, if the woman who found May hadn't taken action.

"This is an alternative to a very serious problem. This is about saving lives," Finegold said.

Chairman Brian Major if he could give selectmen an idea of the range of estimates, he did not do so.

"I think it's better for another time," he said.

"Then how do you know you're at 21 percent?" asked Selectman John Hess.

Supporters said they'd based the 21 percent on their traditional estimates that the renovation project will cost about $4.2 million.

Tuminelli told selectmen that Andover had spent more than $300,000 of the $500,000 appropriated by 1997 Town Meeting.

Mary McGarry Morris

Novelist to read work in person

Mary McGarry Morris

Celebrated Andover author Mary McGarry Morris will be reading from her new novel Fiona Range next Friday, May 19, at the Andover Bookstore.

Manager Julie Carlson expects the author to read a few selected pieces and then do a book signing.

Fiona Range was released this month from Viking, and is Morris' first novel since Songs in Ordinary Time, which was selected as an Oprah Book Club selection for the summer months.

"Set in a small town, Fiona Range features a rich cast of characters who are all into one another's business, a place where it is difficult to keep a secret," according to Viking.

Morris is also the author of Vanished, which was nominated for the National Book Award and the PEN/Faulkner Award, and A Dangerous Woman, which was made into a major motion picture.

The Andover Bookstore is located at 89R Main St., in Olde Andover Village. Call (800) 491-0143 for details.

New book

Grammy-nominated singer/song-writer Cheryl Wheeler will perform at Crossroads Coffeehouse at North Parish Unitarian Universalist Church on May 13 at 8 p.m. Tickets are $17.

Wheeler recently made national news when she issued a cease-and-desist order to the Denver District Attorney's Office after they released a video of the Columbine crime scene set to her music. Parents and victims reportedly were horrified at the tape. For more information, call 687-3960, or visit <cherylwheeler.com>.

Rush, Ian to Collins Center May 13

open auditions. Out of more than 100 applicants, Rush chose a pair of up-and-coming artists, Andover High grad Frank Morey and Les Sampou.

"It's a different dynamic. We're essentially putting a team together here," says Rush. "We've been swapping tapes and we'll get together the afternoon of the show and actually rehearse. We don't overrehearse it, because we don't want to lose the working-without-a-net vibe."

"There's a lot of spontaneity, and I think if I get really good people they never let me down."

Rush's manager, Andover resident Dan Betty, says he hopes the show will help relaunch the Collins Center as a facility that can host more than just local productions.

"We'd like to prove (media experts) wrong, the Collins Center isn't workable," says Rush.

The Club 47 show is the biggest-name show at the Collins Center in close to a decade, according to the center's caretaker.

Morey, an Andover High grad who last performed on the stage as a student, is looking forward to the show, and to getting to know both Rush and Ian.

Before they were stars — Frank Morey tunes up before the audition that landed him a spot on the Club 47 show this weekend. Tom Rush is credited with discovering Jackson Browne, Joni Mitchell and James Taylor, and Morey would like to be next.

He says he's followed Ian's advice from her column in Performing Songwriter magazine.

Ian says they'll have plenty of time to talk backstage.

Tickets are still available for the May 13 Andover show. Betty says that people can call Ticketmaster, or buy them online by clicking on the concert on the tomrush.com Web site.

Ticketmaster will stop selling tickets by phone at 3 p.m. on Friday, May 12. Any tickets remaining for the show will be sold the next day, the day of the show, May 13, at the Collins Center box office, beginning at 4 p.m.

Longtime Ian listeners may notice a different urgency to her playing. Ian recently went through surgery and says it affected both her latest album and her current playing.

"I think anytime you come close to dying, you look up one day and you go, 'Ah! I need to get my act together.' It's the cliché that every day is precious."

"It's just made me more conscious of how short a window we all have," she says. "I think it affects me more than I'm aware of, because I don't think about it that much," says Ian.

◀ They're off! - To celebrate Kaleidoscope's 20th summer season, the American Family Theater of Philadelphia will present The Wizard of Oz at The Collins Center on Sunday, May 14. The exciting live musical performance begins at 4 p.m. Tickets are $12 each, and all proceeds will benefit the Kaleidoscope's scholarship fund. The local, non-profit enrichment program has offered hundreds of courses to thousands of children from throughout the Merrimack Valley, according to Janis Baron, director and founder. Tickets to see The Wizard of Oz may be obtained by calling 475-1422; or by writing Kaleidoscope, Box 506, Andover, 01810. They can also be purchased at The Learning Express, 32 Park St.

Celebrate children's poetry

Tonight, Thursday, at 7, the Andover Bookstore will host "An Evening with Donald Hall" in celebration of his children's poetry collection, the Oxford Illustrated Book of American Children's Poems.

Hall will read from this collection of classic gems and forgotten treasures of American children's poetry, and will talk about the role poetry has played in his life as a writer and as a reader.

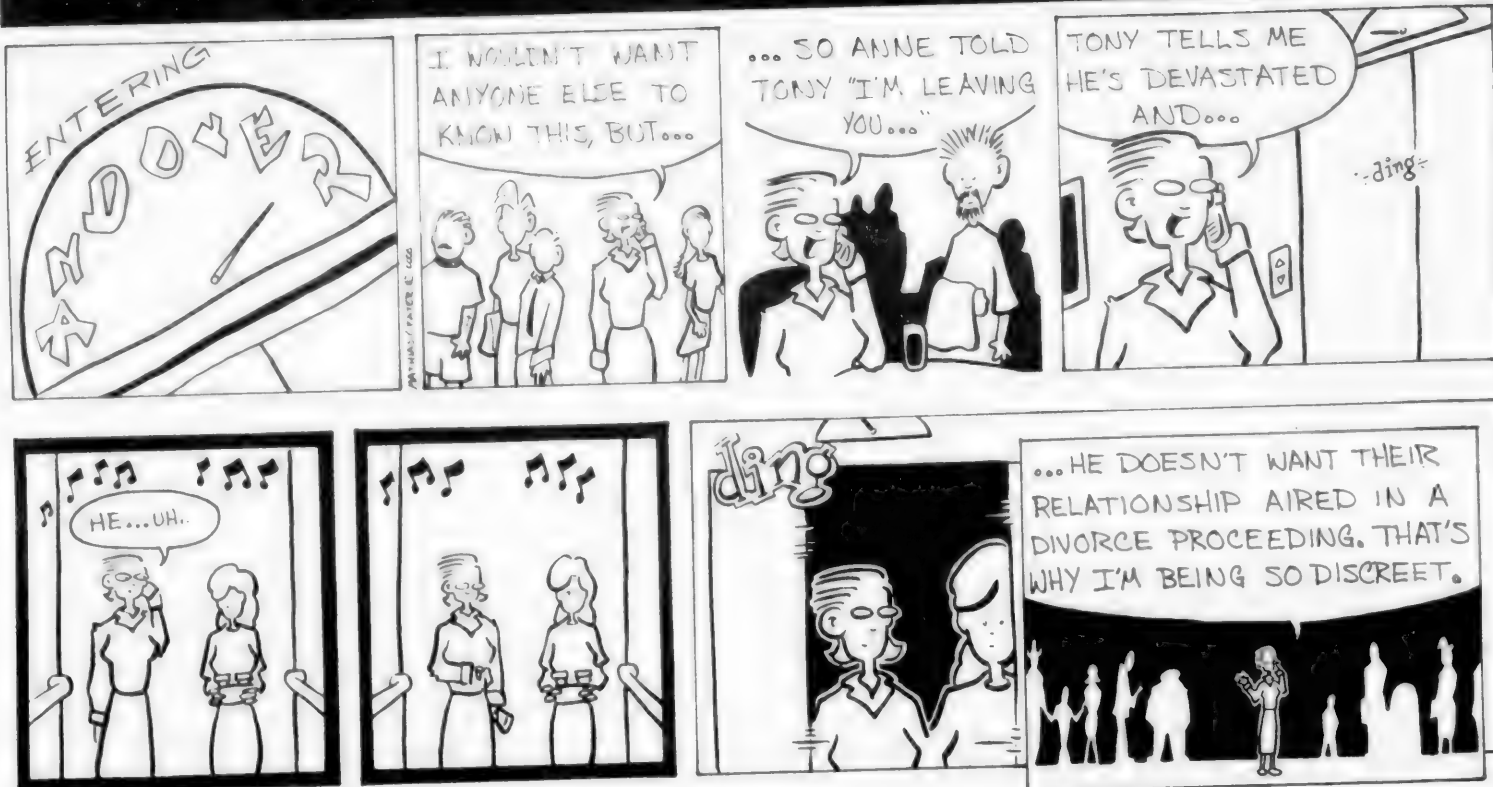

A book-signing follows. Admission is free, but space is limited. Call (800) 491-0143 for more information.

To the Voters of Andover

programs. This restriction will be particularly challenging when addressing the additional staffing and operating needs for the new schools, if passed, of approximately $1 million starting in 2003.

Question 2, new elementary and middle schools. Although this project was passed overwhelmingly at this year's Town Meeting, actually building the schools is contingent upon voters approving the debt exclusion method of funding.

A yes vote is required for the schools to be built.

A yes vote will eliminate the overcrowding in all our elementary and middle schools, and provide adequate space for educational programming for the next 10 years.

A yes vote means an average annual tax increase of approximately $12 in 2001, rising to a peak of approximately $165 in 2005 and then declining gradually for the life of the bond (probably 20 years).

A no vote means the schools will not be built.

A no vote will result in escalating overcrowding and restrictions on educational programming.

Question 3, sidewalks. The recent Town Meeting approved these sidewalks as a safe means for children to walk to school, but actually building them is contingent upon passage of the debt-exclusion method of funding, just like with Question 2.

A yes vote is required to build the sidewalks to the new schools.

A yes vote means an average annual tax increase of approximately $11 in 2003 and then declining gradually for the life of the bond (probably 5 years).

A no vote means these sidewalks will not be built.

A no vote means the children's safety issues will have to be addressed in some other way.

The Town Manager supports a yes vote on all three questions, as does the Board of Selectmen. The Finance Committee has not taken a position on Question 1, but has recommended approval of the new schools and school area sidewalks at Town Meeting.

Steinbeck scholar to speak at bookshop

Katie Rodger will speak about author John Steinbeck and the work of the Center for Steinbeck Studies at San Jose State University, Tuesday, May 16, 7:30 p.m. at Andover Books & Prints, 68 Park St.

The program is open to the public free of charge. Seating is limited.

Rodger, an Andover native, is graduate assistant to Dr. Susan Shillinglaw, director of the Center for Steinbeck Studies and an internationally renowned Steinbeck authority.

Rodger participated in the University Professor's Program at Boston University for one year after graduating from Andover High School in 1993. She then continued her studies in California, receiving her bachelor of arts in English from the University of California, San Diego. Her honors work there was about John Steinbeck's epic novel, Grapes of Wrath, comparing the migrant population as found in the book in the 1930s with the migrant workers in California today.

Rodger's work at the Steinbeck Center includes cataloging Steinbeck material, assisting visiting research scholars, writing and editing articles for the Steinbeck newsletter. Of particular interest is her current project, editing the letters of Edward F. Ricketts, the California marine biologist. Ricketts was Steinbeck's best friend and collaborator on the book, Sea of Cortez.

Rodger presented her paper "Breaking Through in the Sea of Cortez: The Spiritual Philosophy of Ed Ricketts" at a conference held last month at Brigham Young University. Her book of Ed Ricketts letters and commentary is expected to be published next year with the assistance of Edward Ricketts Jr., Shillinglaw, and the Center for Steinbeck Studies.

Andover Chamber to honor Larsen, McQuade

The Andover Chamber of Commerce will hold its 2000 Annual Service Award Breakfast and Community Service Awards Ceremony Thursday, June 1, at 7:30 a.m. at Indian Ridge Country Club on Lovejoy Road.

Community Service Award winners include high school students, who will be presented college scholarships, and Larry Larsen and Bob McQuade of Andover, this year's co-winners, for distinguished community service.

According to the event organizers, "Dr. Larsen has contributed extensively in many ways over the years to the civic well-being of Andover."

Larsen recently stepped down from the Board of Selectmen after nine years of service. During these years, among other things, he formed the Andover Youth Foundation, for the purpose of building a Youth Center, formed the Friends of Andover Youth in 1998, and has served as a mentor for the Andover High School career mentoring program through the Service Club of Andover.

Other community involvements include being active in the Andover Kiwanis Club, the Masonic Lodge, and the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association.

Larsen has been elected to the American College of Forensic Psychology and the National Academy of Neuropsychology, and is a fellow of the American Board of Medical Psychotherapists. He is a member of the Massachusetts and American Psychological Associations.

Larry
Larsen

Bob
McQuade

McQuade retired recently as the director of public works for the Town of Andover.

During his tenure in this position, he directed seven divisions within the department including Administration, Water, Sewer, Engineering, Solid Waste, Highway and Street Lighting, managing an lion.

Particularly significant among these projects was the large water treatment plant in Andover.

The town acknowledged McQuade's efforts on this project by dedicating the plant as the Robert E. McQuade Water Treatment Plant.

annual operating budget in excess of $8 million.

As the town's director of public works, McQuade coordinated the planning, design, construction, start-up and operation of special works projects in Andover with a cost of more than $900 mil-

McQuade has served as past president of the New England Water Pollution Control Association, and as director of and on the executive committee of the Water Pollution Control Federation. He is a former chairman of the Greater Lawrence Solid Waste Disposal Planning Board.

McQuade is a diplomate of the American Academy of Environmental Engineers.

He is a licensed professional engineer.

The special guest speaker at the breakfast will be Michael Hogan, executive vice-president of the Mass. Development Finance Agency, the economic bank for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Breakfast will be served at 7:30 a.m.

Tickets cost $20 and are available from the Merrimack Valley Chamber of Commerce at 686-0900; from Ron Hill at Baystate Financial (475-9212); or at the door.

Crafts in the Park set for Saturday

The Andover Chapter of the American Field Service will once again sponsor Andover Crafts in the The Park, this Saturday, May 13, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For the first time, no rain date has been scheduled. Exhibitors whose booths do not offer protection from the weather have been offered space in a tent rented by AFS, but everyone is hoping for traditional beautiful day just before Mother's Day.

Andover Crafts in the The Park has been held every May since 1976, and the organization will celebrate its 25th show. According to organizers, "The show gives everyone, children and adults, the opportunity to find that special something in a variety of gifts and a wide range of prices."

Chaired this year by Sue Wahr of Andover, the show features the work of more than 100 exhibitors whose work has been approved by a jurying committee from the AFS board. All items sold are handcrafted and of high quality, organizers said.

Refreshments will be available.

Proceeds support the AFS exchange programs.

Quota Club 'Walk-a-Thon' is May 21

Quota International of Andover will hold its 9th annual "Walk-a-Thon" on Sunday, May 21, beginning at 10 a.m.

The 5-mile walk begins at the gazebo in the Park, at Bartlet and Chestnut streets, following a route that winds its way through many of the tree-lined streets of Andover. The walk benefits the Lawrence YWCA's Domestic Violence Program, as well as speech- and hearing-impaired children. Quota also provides scholarships for students enrolled in the Speech and Hearing-Impaired Interpreter's program at Northern Essex Community College.

A $15 registration fee entitles walkers to a pre-walk warm-up with Sue Luby, starting at 9:15, a bagel breakfast in the Park following the walk, provided by the Best of Thymes Catering, neck-and-shoulder massages by Hands in Motion, relaxing piano music, and a raffle.

Register for the walk between 9 and 9:45 a.m. at the gazebo, or call Mary Smith at 470-0808.

Can't walk that day? Organizers request that townspeople sponsor a walker for $5 or $10, to help Quota accomplish its service goals for this year.

Pledges may be made at the same phone number.

Cox to make a mark at Historical Society

The Contemporary Artist Series at the Andover Historical Society will feature Ila Cox for a discussion of monotype and monoprint tonight, Thursday, May 11, at 7.

Cox's presentation, "Monotype: The Painterly Print," will focus on how humans make their mark on the landscape, and the spontaneity and serendipity of the monotype and monoprint process.

Her talk is in association with an exhibit of her artwork at the Historical Society through June.

Cox recently moved to Boxford after living in Andover for almost 20 years.

The cost is $2 for members, $5 for non-members.

Call the Society at 475-2236 to register in advance for this evening program and reception.

Andover woman, two Andover companies honored by YWCA

The YWCA of Greater Lawrence recently presented M.J. Powell of Andover with one of four 1999-'00 Community Partner Awards.

Powell was honored in recognition of her 15 years of service to the YWCA. She has served as the YWCA's board president, chair of the Tribute to Women in Business and Industry, chair of the YWCA Advisory Council and, most recently, has launched a

NEWS FOR SENIORS

By Pat Becker

Visiting Artist Series: Merry Beninato will present a special workshop featuring French dyes on silk Tuesday, May 16. This will be a hands-on workshop for those who would like to experiment under Beninato's direction. All materials will be supplied, and reservations ($5) should be made by Friday, May 12.

Senior Center Week: National Senior Center Week will be celebrated the week of May 14. We invite everyone who has an interest in learning about the center to stop in and visit sometime during that week. There will be a complimentary coffee hour each morning; special theme lunches (one day advance notice required), and free passes to try out any class or activity that you're not currently enrolled in. This is always a great week to introduce someone new to what the center has to offer.

Addison Gallery Visit: On Thursday, May 18 we'll enjoy the featured exhibition Academy Hill: The Andover Campus, 1778 To Present. This show chronicles the educational, cultural, and architectural history of Phillips Academy. We'll take a guided tour of both the gallery and the campus, followed by a guided walking tour of the campus. A bag lunch to eat between tours, and we'll finish the afternoon with tea and pastry at the Andover Inn. Reservations ($10) are limited.

Computer Classes: There are a few openings remaining in our Introduction to the Internet class, which will run for three consecutive Friday, beginning May 26. Cost of the class is $30, and participants must have taken computer training for beginners or have equivalent experience. Anyone interested in registering should stop into the center.

Elder Law Forum: Attorney Debra Silberstein will be at the Center on Friday, May 26, at 9:30 a.m. to present a program called "Long Term Care Insurance: Is It The Right Choice For You?" Silberstein's presentation will cover new changes in policies, cost, minimum policy standards, coverage etc. There have been significant changes in long-term care insurance policies since they were first introduced, and this updated information is important for seniors. There is no charge for the program, but pre-registration would be greatly appreciated.

Brown Bag Lunch: Come meet the author... Our own Mary Arakelian will be with us to lecture and present a slide show on her recently published book, Orra Phelps, Adirondack Naturalist. Based on the fascinating life of her great aunt, Mary will also be signing books for us after the presentation. Bring a bag lunch and make a reservation ($2) to join us Wednesday, May 24, at noon.

Supper Club: This month we will enjoy our monthly dinner at the Cedar Crest restaurant in Lawrence. Cost is $15 inclusive, and menu selections are available at the center. We will meet at the restaurant at 5 p.m. Wednesday, May 31. Couples, singles, newcomers, regulars - all are invited to participate. Just stop by the center.

WEDDINGS & ENGAGEMENTS

Richards-Schaefer

Christine Schaefer and Fred Richards were married by Father Richard Foley on Sept. 18, 1999 at St. Augustine Church in Andover.

The bride is the daughter of Dan and Rose Schaefer of Andover.

The matron of honor was Pamela Schaefer of Andover and bridesmaids were Roxanne Cichy of Stoneham, Carol Murray of Atkinson, N.H., Colleen Boylan of Andover, and Diane Galeota of New Jersey.

Anna Boylan and Ricky Galeota both brought up gifts to the altar, while Dean Boylan and Frank Galeota were in charge of the aisle runner.

The groom is the son of Fred and Carol Richards of Melrose.

The best man was Derek Richards of Melrose and groomsmen were Dan Schaefer, Mike Enes, Eric Haltom, Jerry Connolly, Rick Robinson, John Curtin, Mark Huot, Kevin Ruppel and Jamie McWalter.

The bride, a graduate of Andover High School and Merrimack College, is employed as an executive recruiter at ESA Inc. in Danvers.

The groom, a graduate of Melrose High School and St. Anselm's College, is employed as a sales representative at Novartis Pharmaceuticals.

The bride wore a Bianchi gown with Australian crystals with a cathedral length veil, complimented by a sterling silver tier-ra. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies and white roses.

Fred and Christine Richards

In place of a guestbook, guests signed a silver tray with an engraving pen.

Following a black-tie reception at the Marriott Long Wharf in Boston, the couple left for Sandals St. Lucia Golf and Spa Resort.

The couple live in Melrose.

Lesley Elizabeth Brammer and Kevin Michael Walsh were married in a garden ceremony in Honolulu, Hawaii. A reception was held later at the Boston Park Plaza.

The bride is daughter of Linda and Robert F. Brammer of Andover.

Erin Watts of Dearborn, Mich., the bride's cousin, was maid of honor. Best men were the groom's father, Charles Walsh, and the bride's father, Robert Brammer. Patricia Zakotnik of Gaithersburg, Md., the groom's sister, also participated in the wedding ceremony.

The bride is a 1990 graduate of Andover High School and a 1994 graduate of the University of Michigan and recently became the Director of Industry Relations for the HIDA Educational Foundation.

Her husband is the son of the Mildred and Charles H. Walsh of Ashburn, Va. He graduated from the University of Maine in 1991 and works for GN Corp. as area manager of the Mid-Atlantic region.

The bride wore an ivory sleeveless A-line dress with draped back and chapel train. The bodice was beaded Alençon lace over chiffon, with a matching headpiece and fingertip veil.

The couple make their home in Fairfax, Va.

Boucher-Jameson engagement set

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond J. Boucher of Avon, Conn., and Ocean Park, Maine, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jennifer Owen, to Booth Stuart Jameson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Jameson of Indianapolis, Ind., and Leland, Mich.

Ms. Boucher graduated from Bates College and attended the University of Bath, England. She is the director of legislative affairs at Associated Builders and Contractors of Arlington, Va.

tors of Arlington, Va.

Mr. Jameson, a graduate of Wabash College, received a master's degree in International Relations from Georgetown University. He is the legislative director for US Rep. Michael Castle of Delaware.

Ms. Boucher is the granddaughter of Alice H. Wenzel of Washington Park, Andover, and the late Paul J. Wenzel.

The couple plan a September wedding.

Picnic, religious festival to honor St. Anthony

The annual picnic and religious festival in honor of St. Anthony will be celebrated on the grounds of Franciscan Center, 459 River Road, on June 4.

This event has been held each year on the grounds of the former St. Francis Seminary for the past 50 years. It has become a day of family reunion as well as a day of religious devotion for thousands of people from the cities and towns in the Greater Boston area.

Masses will be celebrated at 11 a.m. and noon. The Blessing of the Sick takes place at 2 p.m., followed by a procession with the statue and relic of St. Anthony. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will be celebrated outdoors after the procession. The Franciscan friars invite the public to join in this special day of devotion and family fun. The entrance gate will open at 9 a.m.

Gangi-Holt

leadership giving committee of the YWCA.

The YWCA also presented Community Partner awards to two Andover corporations, UniCare and Andover/Livery Cab Co.

UniCare's award was given in recognition of the company's support of a new effort of Nina's Project, the YWCA's domestic violence program, which works with area health providers to aid women who report domestic violence concerns to their medical providers. In addition, UniCare provided the YWCA with in-depth technical assistance in its organization-wide technology initiative, which was funded in part by Bell Atlantic and the United Way to network the organization's classrooms for use by children and their parents.

Andover Cab received their award in honor of the company's long-time transportation partnership and support of the YWCA's Girls Center and After School programs.

The YWCA also recognized the Lawrence/Methuen Community Coalition for its grassroots, community empowerment efforts with neighborhood associations throughout the two communities. The LMCC has included YWCA programs such as Common Ground, a free evening program for families in its efforts.

The YWCA of Greater Lawrence is a not-for-profit United Way member agency providing child care, after-school programs, transitional housing for teens, women and children; and domestic violence and women's health advocacy services.

Historical Society sponsors second annual Golf Classic

The Andover Historical Society will sponsor its second annual Golf Classic on Monday, May 22, at Andover Country Club.

The Historical Society must upgrade its building to include handicap accessibility.

Proceeds from the Golf Classic will be used for this purpose, as well as to support new programs and moving the blacksmith shop and weaving studio to the property this summer.

The Society is housed in the Amos Blanchard House and Barn Museum at 97 Main St., which contain eight restored period rooms of the Federal and Romantic Eras (1820-1850); and a two-story barn with farm tools, 1829 fire pumper, and a 19th-century woodworking shop.

The 2nd Annual Golf Classic starts shotgun at 7:30 a.m.

Fees are $150 for members, and $175 for non-members, which includes a continental breakfast and luncheon.

Sponsors at the Corporate, Tee or Cart level (for $500, $100 or $75 respectively) are welcome. Contact Debby DuBay at 470-8773 or (781) 66-8632 to sign up, or for more information.

Your Dental HEALTH

by Richard D. Hopgood, D.M.D., F.A.G.D.

PARTIAL DENTURES

When a number of teeth are missing at various locations around the dental arch, the removable partial denture is usually a good choice to replace them. In fact, it is the only choice (with the notable exception of implants) if there are no posterior teeth to which a fixed bridge can be attached. A partial denture consists of saddles that hold the artificial teeth, a base or bar that connects to the saddles in various parts of the mouth, and retainers (clasps) that grip the abutment teeth to hold the denture firmly in place. The artificial teeth are constructed of porcelain or plastic. They are attached to the saddle base with pink denture plastic (acrylic) that resembles gum tissue.

Dentures of one form or another have been in use for more than 2,000 years, and today these substitutes for missing natural teeth have never been more effective, easy to use, comfortable, and appealing. However, even with dentures, you still need to take care of your oral hygiene with regular professional checkups and scrupulous home care. Complete dental care for all members of your family is available here at 296 Lowell Street, Rt 133, with easy access off Rt 93. Please call 475-2431 for an appointment.

P.S. The underside of the saddle of partial dentures may be relined periodically to maintain a secure fit.

Philip's War: Rediscovering New England's Lost Conflict," is open to the public free of charge.

The speaker, Eric B. Schultz, will explore ways in which King Philip's War still exists all around us, with a particular emphasis on sites that can be visited, and some of the historical and archaeological mysteries still associated with the war. His talk will be based on the book, King Philip's War: The History and Legacy of America's Lost Conflict (Countryman Press, 1999), by Eric B. Schultz and Michael Tougas.

A book-signing will follow the program.

Schultz is CEO of Sensitech, a logistics information company based in Beverly. The research for his book took him on travels throughout New England over an eight-year period. He lives in Boxford with his wife, Susan, and three children.

New chocolate business hopes for sweet success

If chocolate's Mom's thing, you may be in luck.

Mimi Queen, former manager of Chocolate by Design, opened her own gourmet chocolate shop, Sweet Mimi's, on Saturday.

Queen has been in the chocolate industry for eight years. When Chocolate by Design decided to sell wholesale only, Queen quickly decided to "bite the bullet" and open her own sweet shop.

"We signed the lease on April 15," she said. "The last three weeks have been fantastic. A lot of work, but it is more than worth it."

Queen admits that she could not have done it alone.

"All my friends came with champagne and we worked to get it ready for opening day. It was hard, but you can't imagine the support from friends and people from town. It was truly a community event," said Queen.

Opening day brought small children with pictures to decorate the new walls and Frappacinos from old neighbor, Starbucks. "All the merchants have gone out of their way to be nice to me," she said. "Debbie from Main Street Salon put signs in her window, lawyers offered to help with business plans. I really appreciate being here. Everyone has been so great."

In addition to the fresh, high-quality chocolate, like truffles and turtles, Sweet Mimi's also sells jellybeans and an assortment of penny candy. Queen also sells gift certificates which can be

Joseph Harrington, Ph.D.

Dr. Joseph Harrington is a licensed, cognitive behavioral therapist with more than 30 years experience providing personal counseling, marriage and family counseling, executive coaching, and professional consulting services to businesses and individuals. He is also a proud grandfather.

"It's my real-life experience as a father and grandfather," says Harrington, "as a professor, someone who's developed treatment programs, someone who's worked in the corporate world...that differentiates me from many other therapists."

"When people walk into my office," he continues, "they quickly realize that I bring not only my clinical training, but my own experience functioning in many of the same environments and working through many of the same issues that they are."

Harrington's office is littered with personal and professional vestiges of his life's work. From family photos to an extensive collection of textbooks and trade journals, including one he authored, his academic and professional achievements are evident.

Harrington received a Ph.D. in counseling and clinical psychology from Boston College and is a former professor of psychology at Merrimack College. He founded The Harrington Institute for Psychological Services and is president of the Middlesex Group, a network of senior behavioral consultants with offices across Massachusetts.

"I think of myself as a teacher," he concludes, "and my patients as students. The job is for me to help you learn why you're functioning the way you are and help you take a look at the things that may not be working."

Dr. Harrington's office is at 24 York Street, Andover. To schedule an appointment, call 978-475-5392. For more information on his practice, visit www.doctorharrington.com.

AHS Roundup: Boys lacrosse qualifies for MIAA tournament

By Rick Harrison

Laura Stone fired a no-hitter as the Andover High varsity softball team continued its revival with a 2-0 squeeze past Haverhill this week.

The victory was the fourth in five games for the Lady Warriors, who continue to dig out of an earlier 1-7 hole in pursuit of an MIAA Division 1 North Tournament berth.

***

The AHS girls varsity track team clinched another Merrimack Valley Conference Division 1 title, improving to 5-0 in the conference with recent victories over Lowell, 103-43, and Central Catholic, 88-55.

The boys fell from the undefeated ranks, and lost their title bid, with consecutive losses to Lowell, 78-62, and unbeaten Central, 89-51.

Both teams were also soundly thrashed by former AHS coach Dick Collins' crosstown rival Phillips Academy, the girls beaten 89-56 and the boys toppled 102-42.

***

Both Golden Warrior tennis teams remained undefeated in MVC play and both also qualified for the MIAA Division 1 North Tournament recently.

In the annual State Individual Championships, the boys No. 1 doubles team of Pete Hughes and Andy Chiaraluce advanced to this weekend's North Sectional quarterfinals.

All other AHS players were ousted from the competition, although No. 1 singles Evan Sideman and Jill Oppenheim won three matches each before being eliminated in the Round-of-16.

***

The boys lacrosse and volleyball teams also qualified for the MIAA Tournament, although the volleyballers subsequently had a five-match win streak snapped in a 2-1 loss to Lowell this week.

BOYS LACROSSE

Few teams enjoy as much success in their first varsity season as Andover boys lacrosse, which remained in contention for the East Division title in the Eastern Mass. League with convincing wins over Swampscott (18-5) and Lowell (12-0) recently.

Those wins were somewhat tempered by the first lopsided loss of the season, a 16-6 setback to undefeated East League leader Beverly on Tuesday afternoon.

Coach Wayne Puglisi's overachievers, who qualified for the MIAA Tournament with the win over Lowell at the Doherty Middle School field, are currently 7-1 in league play and 8-3 overall as they head down the regular season homestretch.

Schedule

The locals play under the lights at Lowell tomorrow night (7 p.m.), and then host Ipswich next Tuesday and North Andover next Friday under the lights at Eugene V. Lovely Field (7 p.m.).

Coach Steve Connolly's North Andover crew handed the locals one of their two losses by a 7-6 score on April 17.

Scoring leaders

Through 11 games Troy Lieberman has 19 goals and 16 assists for a team-high 35 points. Goalscoring leader Andy Ryan has 23 goals and five assists.

Alan MacLean gets ready to send the ball back over the net. The Warriors posted a win over Lawrence and a loss to Lowell in recent action.

Andover 12 Lowell 0

Shutouts are rare in lacrosse, but the host Golden Warriors got this one with some solid goaltending from Chris Cataldo and Alex Gostanian and strong defensive play from long-stick midfielder Mark Rogers, Jim Hale, Jon Maloney and Eric Martin.

Cataldo played the first half and made 10 saves, while Gostanian worked the second half and stopped all eight Lowell shots.

"After the Swampscott game we talked about a few things we needed to improve on," said coach Puglisi. "We wanted to do better on things like slides, field recognition and good shot selection — and the kids responded well in all those areas today."

Steve Liu and Mike Hass led the offense with four and three goals respectively, while Troy Lieberman netted a goal and handed out three assists.

Steve Seero had a goal and assist while Andy Ryan, Chris Callison and Greg Beck produced a goal each.

Other assists were distributed by Nate Stoetzel, Dustin Shea and Oliver Gregory (two).

"We handcuffed Lowell most of the day with our defense," said Puglisi. "We didn't give them many good scoring chances."

Andover jumped ahead 6-0 after one quarter, led 8-0 at the half and 11-0 after three periods.

For Lowell, which fell to 2-7 overall, top players included sophomore attack Chris Gonsalves, midfielder Ron McCarron, long-stick defenseman Peter Romanowsky and busy goaltender Nick Zgonis.

Andover 18 Swampscott 5

Troy Lieberman had a big day offensively for the visiting Golden Warriors, scoring four goals and setting up three others in the lopsided romp.

Andy Ryan also netted four goals as AHS jumped to a 7-2 lead after one quarter and put the game away with six more goals in the third period.

Contributing two goals each were Mike Hass, Jeff Ahern and Greg Beck, while singletons were scored by Greg Drapeau, Steve Seero, Oliver Gregory and Tim Ronan.

Nate Stoetzel, Steve Liu and Chris Callison had an assist each.

Chris Cataldo stopped 10 of 13 shots in the first half, while Alex Gostanian halted nine of 11 in the final two quarters.

Beverly 16 Andover 6

Host Beverly took a 4-0 first-quarter lead and the Panthers never looked back while improving their overall record to 12-0 this spring with the convincing victory at Hurd Stadium.

"Beverly has had a lacrosse team for as long as I can remember," said coach Puglisi. "They're the best team we've played this season by far — including our scrimmages. They just dismantled us."

Although beaten in almost every phase of the game, Andover battled back with four goals in the second period before the Beverly defense held the locals to two goals the entire second half.

Goaltender Chris Cataldo was the bright spot with 19 saves for the Golden Warriors.

"Chris played an unbelievable game," said Puglisi. "He kept it respectable."

Andy Ryan led the attack with his 22nd and 23rd goals, while Greg Beck also scored twice and single tallies were contributed by Mike Hass and Troy Lieberman. There were no assists.

Beverly became the first opponent to score in double figures against Andover, and the six goals by the locals ties their second low single-game total for the season.

BOYS TENNIS

The Golden Warriors' first doubles team of Pete Hughes and Andy Chiaraluce has, for the second straight year, reached the North Sectional quarterfinals in the annual State Individual Singles & Doubles Championships which opened with two days of matches last weekend at the Lexington and Burlington courts.

They are the only Andover High boys still alive in the single-elimination competition. Singles players Evan Sideman, Gabe Adams and James Kim, along with No. 2 doubles Mike Meagher and Jason Lynn, were all ousted at various stages of play.

On the team front, the AHS boys qualified for the MIAA Division 1 North Tournament following recent Merrimack Valley Conference wins over Central Catholic (4-1), Methuen (4-1) and Haverhill (5-0).

In a non-leaguer against visiting Eastern Mass. Division 1 power St. John's Prep of Danvers, the Golden Warriors battled hard before dropping a 3-2 decision.

AHS Roundup: Girls tennis team post four more wins

Coach Mike Wartman's crew is now 9-0 in conference play and 9-2 overall.

Schedule

The Golden Warriors launched a stretch of five consecutive road matches yesterday at Haverhill.

Next week is busy as the locals travel for 3:30 p.m. matches at Billerica (Monday), at Chelmsford (Wednesday), at non-league Newton South (Thursday) and at Lawrence (Friday).

State Individual Championships

The top Andover doubles tandem of Pete Hughes and Andy Chiaraluce rolled to a trio of straight-set victories to reach the North Sectional quarterfinals scheduled for this Saturday morning at Lexington (10 a.m.).

The AHS pair ousted Burlington No. 1 Vinny Radia and Matt Daniels 6-0, 6-2 in the first round and Reading's top duo Mike Walsh and Nick Casalaro 6-2, 6-3 in the second round.

The following day, playing in unseasonably warm weather, Hughes and Chiaraluce won their Round-of-16 match 6-4, 6-1 over Central Catholic No. 2 team Ben Soe and Paul Tabajonda.

Hughes and Chiaraluce hope to surpass last year when they were ousted in the North quarters.

***

No. 1 singles Evan Sideman, who went 3-1 in the tourney, also survived the first day of North Sectional elimination play at Lexington.

Sideman, seeded No. 6 on his half of the draw, opened with a 6-2, 6-3 victory over Hamilton-Wenham No. 2 player Jeff Model.

His second match of the first day resulted in a 6-0, 6-2 decision over Tyngsboro High No. 1 Rich Aseltine.

The following morning Sideman advanced to the Round-of-16 with a 6-2, 6-1 decision over Manchester-by-the-Sea No. 2 Kyle Kekeisen.

Sideman's run ended in his fourth match when Swampscott High No. 1 Billy Moran registered a decisive 6-1, 6-2 victory.

***

AHS second doubles Mike Meagher and Jason Lynn moved ahead with a 6-0, 6-4 triumph over Marblehead No. 1 team Matt Gershan and Warren Frame, followed by a 6-3, 6-3 sweep of Lynnfield High No. 2 tandem Mike Volger and Ben Aronson.

Meagher and Lynn were eliminated in the Round-of-16 by Jeff Miller and Eric Conrad, the No. 1 team from St. John's Prep in Danvers, who posted a 6-1, 6-0 victory.

Andover No. 2 and 3 singles players Gabe Adams and James Kim both had tough draws and were beaten in the first round.

Adams lost a 6-1, 6-2 decision to Rockport No. 1 Martin Diedenhofen, a German exchange student seeded No. 2 in the North behind defending state champ Justin Slattery who lives in Andover and attends Central Catholic.

Kim was eliminated by St. John's Prep No. 1 Paul Colahan, 6-2, 6-2.

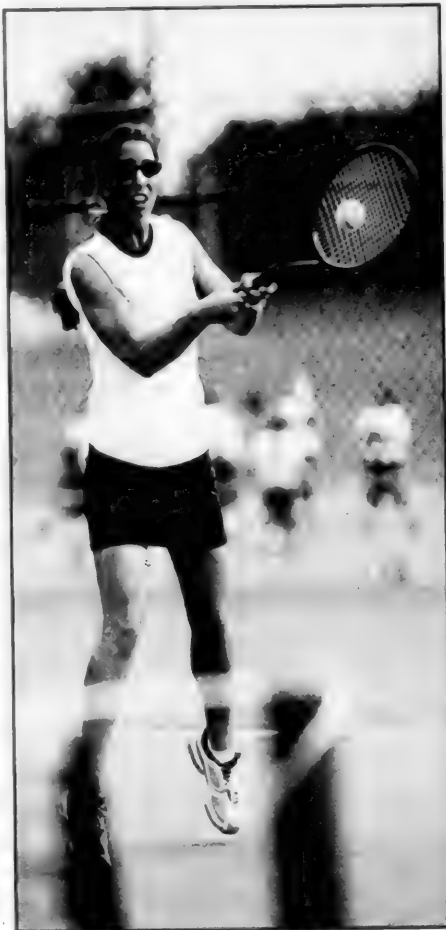

Rich Roda, who normally plays No. 3 singles for AHS, was unable to compete because of a conflict with SAT exams.

Andover 4 Methuen 1

The lineup looked dramatically different for this match as several AHS players saw their first varsity action of the season.

James Kim played first singles and had no trouble with the Rangers' Matt Filteau, 6-2, 6-0.

Junior Steve Hibino, part of an All-Conference doubles team last spring, rolled to a 6-0, 6-2 triumph over Jason Chan at No. 2 singles.

Freshman Alex Cline and junior Sky Chien hooked up at first doubles and blitzed Gregor Apparetti and Han Truong, 6-0, 6-0.

Sophomore Andrew Ong and senior Dave Guertin teamed at second doubles and coasted 6-0, 6-1 against Methuen's Steve Valiere and Jason Hottenbach.

The Rangers earned their point at third singles where Kevin Riopelle swept past AHS senior Andy Jacobs, 6-4, 6-1.

Andover 4 Central Catholic 1

Andover resident Justin Slattery became the first MVC opponent to post a victory against the Golden Warriors this spring, but AHS still won the match easily.

Raiders' invincible No. 1 singles player Slattery, the defending State Individual champion who has never lost a high school match, defeated Evan Sideman 6-1, 6-2.

Gabe Adams and Rich Roda claimed points for the locals at second and third singles, sweeping past Dan D'Agata (6-3, 6-2) and Andy Lawlor (6-0, 6-0) respectively.

In doubles, Pete Hughes and Andy Chiaraluce trampled Central's Ben Soe and Paul Tabajonda, 6-1, 6-0.

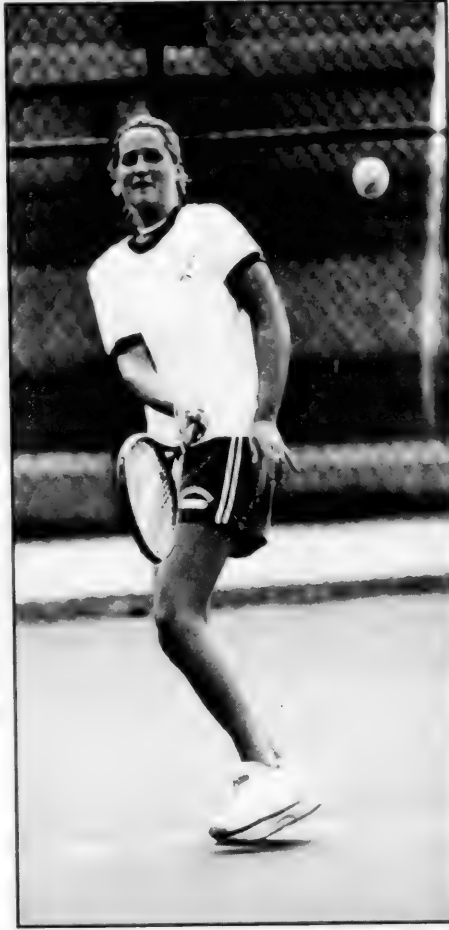

Mike Meagher once again joined Jason Lynn for a comfortable 6-1, 6-3 cruise past Darren Giorgio and Andy Marley.

St. John's Prep 3 Andover 2

The Golden Warriors scored their two points at first singles and second doubles.

Evan Sideman was a three-set winner over the Eagles' Paul Colahan at No. 1, Sideman winning a first-set tiebreaker 7-5 and the third set, 6-4.

Second doubles Mike Meagher and Jason Lynn rolled in symmetrical straight sets, 6-4, 6-4, over Eric Conway and Kris Garlick of SJP.

Second and third singles Gabe Adams and Rich Roda came out on the short end of the score, Kevin Bergeson sweeping Adams 6-3, 6-3) and Paul Roberts doing the same to Roda, 7-5, 6-0.

It took three sets before top doubles tandem Pete Hughes and Andy Chiaraluce fell to The Prep's Eric Conrad and Jeff Miller. Hughes and Chiaraluce won the second set, 6-0, but lost the first, 4-6, and the third, 2-6.

St. John's is currently 7-2.

GIRLS TENNIS

Four more 5-0 sweeps over Notre Dame Academy of Tyngsboro, Tewksbury, Methuen and Haverhill kept the Andover High girls tennis express on track for a 12th straight Merrimack Valley Conference title.

The Lady Warriors were 12-0 after the four wins.

Coach Tony Russo's squad, which has posted 32 consecutive 5-0 shutout victories against conference opponents, hasn't lost an MVC match since May 21, 1990 when Lowell edged the locals, 3-2.

The Lady Warriors are also 232-1 in their last 233 conference matches and 250-14 in their last 264 matches overall including non-league and tournament play.

***

Capt. Jill Oppenheim went farthest in the State Individual Championships, winning three matches before being eliminated by Evie Stevens of Acton-Boxboro in the Round-of-16.

Schedule

The Lady Warriors play at once-beaten Central Catholic (10-1) tomorrow and host Billerica next Monday afternoon (3:30 p.m. matches).

State Individual Championships

All three AHS singles players and both doubles teams won their opening matches.

But only Jill Oppenheim was able to survive beyond her second match.

Oppenheim started with a 6-0, 6-0 cruise past Crystal Szeto of Belmont, and in the second round she easily defeated North No. 4 seed Paulette Hricko of Dover-Sherborn, 6-1, 6-0.

Returning the following day, Oppenheim won her third match against a Marblehead opponent before Acton-Boxboro No. 1 Evie Stevens stopped her, 6-2, 7-5, in the Round-of-16.

The loss was Oppenheim's first of the season.

***

Second singles Ashley Heller battled past Cassandra Nagle of Masconomet Regional, 7-5, 7-5, in her first match before Kate McCabe of Manchester-by-the-Sea won a three-setter 6-4, 6-7, 6-1.

Heller appeared to have the momentum after winning the second-set tiebreaker, 7-3, but McCabe regrouped and played a strong third set.

Third singles Amy Axelrod topped Kathy Lee of Acton-Boxboro 6-4, 6-3 in the opening round, but then lost to Tory Spence of Lynnfield by the same 6-4, 6-3 count in round two.

***

Top doubles tandem Erica Tebbetts and Erin Zuena defeated a team from Bedford 6-4, 6-2 in their first match.

After receiving a second round bye, Tebbetts and Zuena were eliminated the following day in a three-setter as a Winchester tandem posted a hard-fought 6-3, 4-6, 6-3 win over the locals.

Jenna Bernstein and Carolyn Purcell played three tiebreakers in their two doubles matches.

They opened with a marathon 7-6 (12-10), 5-7, 7-6 (7-4) first-round triumph before a Masconomet Regional team bounced the local pair 7-6 (7-3), 6-1.

Andover 5 Methuen 0

The host Rangers had no answers as once again Andover won all five matches in straight sets.

Amy Axelrod played first singles and wore down Suong Nguyen 6-4, 6-2.

Jessica Bindman stepped in at second singles for a 6-0, 6-0 whitewash of Methuen's Andrea Benson, while Elizabeth Magner handled Christina Ianallo 6-3, 6-0 at third singles.

The locals dropped only one game in four sets of doubles.

Jenna Bernstein and Erica Tebbetts topped Julie Butler and Molly Men, 6-0, 6-1, and the freshman combo of Lauren Fitzgerald and Jenicka Hornung popped Kaitlin Callery and Tennayeh Towne 6-0, 6-0.

Andover 5 Tewksbury 0

The Lady Warriors lost only one game in six singles sets and one game in four doubles sets at the AHS courts.

In singles, Jill Oppenheim ripped Julie Cole 6-1, 6-0, while No. 2 Ashley Heller and No. 3 Jessica Bindman were perfect in 6-0, 6-0 sweeps past sisters Becky and Rachel Osterman respectively.

Jenna Bernstein and Carolyn Purcell had no trouble in a 6-0, 6-0 blitz of Tewksbury's Erin Phelan and Karen Lazzaro.

Tricia Griffin and Ashley Hargadon completed the romp with a 6-1, 6-0 cruise at second doubles.

and had a bit of a tussle before defeating the Lancers' Alitia LaChance 6-4, 6-3.

Erica Tebbets overpowered NDA's Beth Bullock at second singles, 6-0, 6-0, and freshman Betsy Pierce stopped Kathy Bigbee 6-2, 6-3 for her second victory this season at No. 3 singles.

Michelle Leahy and Erin Zuena remained invincible at first doubles with a 6-0, 6-0 blitz of Bundu Sudhir and Arlene Lyons.

Tricia Griffin and Ashley Hargadon also had no trouble at second doubles with a 6-1, 6-1 cruise past Katie Pilat and Katie Harrington.

SOFTBALL

The no-hitter by junior ace Laura Stone, which came on the heels of a tough 4-2 final-inning loss to undefeated Tewksbury, boosted the Andover High varsity softball team's record to 5-8 overall.

The locals, who also beat Lawrence 11-2 recently, must win five of their final seven regular season games to qualify for the MIAA Division 1 North Tournament.

That would be a major accomplishment after winning only one of the first eight.

"We're getting better and better," said AHS head coach Stephanie Ragucci. "We're climbing back into this thing, and if we can't beat at least five of the seven remaining teams we don't deserve to be in the tournament."

"The first eight games flew by. It was like being in a fog. But now we're focused."

Schedule

AHS played at Notre Dame Academy yesterday and returns to action next Monday with a non-league rematch at Nazareth Academy in Wakefield. Nazareth beat Andover 7-2 on April 17 and Notre Dame nipped the locals 2-1 a day later.

Injury report

Senior outfielder Jessie DeFrancisco suffered a broken nose when hit in the face by an errant throw as she ran out a ground ball against Lawrence.

Doctors had to re-break the nose before they could set it. She did not play in the Tewksbury or Haverhill games.

"She should be back soon," said coach Ragucci. "It was a fluke injury — and the doctor said the chances of her getting hit there again are almost non-existent."

Andover 2 Haverhill 0

Laura Stone's no-hit gem was needed because Haverhill pitcher Amy Torla was no slouch herself.

The host Lady Warriors managed only three singles, two of them scratch hits, and didn't break the scoreless tie until the bottom of the sixth.

Stone (3-1) struck out six, walked two and faced only 22 batters (one error) — as catcher Jen Roberge gunned down two Haverhill baserunners trying to steal second.

Allison James started the two-run sixth with a walk and freshman Jackie Collins bunted her to second base.

Roberge beat out a bunt single, moving James to third, and Roberge kept going to second as the Haverhill fielder held the ball.

Taylor Traub followed with a bunt which was fielded by Torla on the mound. Both James and Roberge were off the bags, and when Torla whirled and threw to second James raced home with the winning run and Roberge scooted to third.

Lisa Tisbert chased home the insurance run with a groundout to short.

Shannon Sciollo added a single for AHS and defensive standouts were catcher Roberge and third baseman Andrea Manners.

"Haverhill is 0-11 and a very hard team to beat," said Ragucci. "Torla is a very good pitcher."

Tewksbury 4 Andover 2

The Lady Warriors had undefeated Tewksbury (12-0) on the ropes until the seventh-and-final inning, when the visitors pushed across three runs and handed the locals the tough loss.

Jen Roberge had a field day at the plate against TMHS ace pitcher Amy Von Kahle, who had thrown a one-hit shutout against Andover in a 4-0 victory earlier this season.

Roberge, batting leadoff, went 4-for-4 including a bases-empty homer in the bottom of the first to tie the game 1-1. She also singled and scored the go-ahead run on Lisa Tisbert's infield out in the third.

AHS ace pitcher Laura Stone sailed into the seventh with a three-hitter and the 2-1 lead.

With one out, Von Kahle ignited the winning rally with a triple and then scored the tying run on Kate Morris' infield out.

Two costly AHS errors followed, allowing Lauren Welch and Jen Willey to reach base, before Suzie Scott plated the go-ahead run with a single.

Taylor Traub and Andrea Manners produced the only other hits for Andover.

Stone finished with a five-hitter and allowed only two earned runs while walking one and fanning five.

Von Kahle gave up six hits while walking three and whiffing six.

"We had them," lamented Ragucci. "I try to forget that we're a young team. I don't like to use that as an excuse."

"But the whole inexperience thing caught up to us in the seventh inning. They got a runner on third with one out and we got jittery."

"Tewksbury came back because they've been in that position before and they're used to winning. We're still learning how to pull out the close ones," added Ragucci.

Andover 11 Lawrence 2

Sophomore Kaitlin Haugh returned to the mound and pitched a complete-game win over Lawrence, while her teammates broke open a tight game with a nine-run explosion in the top of the seventh at Hayden-Schofield Playstead.

The Andover batters struggled against Lawrence pitcher Brianna Tirone for six innings, going scoreless the first four before pushing across solo runs in the fifth and sixth to inch ahead 2-1.

"She (Tirone) throws the ball very slowly and our hitters were not patient enough until the late innings," said coach Ragucci.

The Lady Warriors trailed 1-0 in the fifth before Andrea Manners laced a double to right-center. She scored the tying run when Jessie DeFrancisco's grounder produced a wild throw that ricocheted and struck DeFrancisco on the bridge of the nose.

Andover took the lead with an unearned run in the sixth. Jen Roberge reached on an error, stole second, took third on Lisa Tisbert's infield out, and scored on a wild pitch.

In the wild nine-run seventh, Andover sent 13 batters to the plate and slapped eight of its season-high 14 hits.

Sophomore Molly Riemer laced a single and two-run triple in the inning, while RBI singles were added by Shannon Sciollo, Kerri Axelrod, Allison James and Manners.

Kara Spang and Tisbert also had singles, Roberge walked with the bases loaded to force home a run, and another run crossed on a passed ball.

Haugh surrendered 10 singles but pitched out of several jams and walked only one batter.

"We continued to play outstanding team defense," said Ragucci.

Sciollo led the attack with three hits, including a double, while drilling two each were Axelrod, Manners and Riemer.

Taylor Traub, Tisbert, DeFrancisco, James and Spang had a single apiece as nine Andover batters hit safely.

Roberge, Manners and Riemer each scored twice, while freshman Jackie Collins and Amanda Camelio both crossed the plate once.

Lashing two hits each for Lawrence were leadoff batter Melissa Gonzalez, Tricia Arraji, Mary Peralta and pitcher Tirone.

TRACK

Chalk up another Merrimack Valley Conference Division 1 dual-meet title for the AHS girls track team, which so dominated its conference foes this spring that the closest win was this week's 33-point 88-55 romp over Central Catholic.

The Lady Warriors' hopes for a perfect spring season, however, went by the boards with the loss to Phillips Academy which left the overall record at 5-1.

The Andover girls also had three winning performances at the Merrimack Valley Conference Freshman/Sophomore Meet in Lowell.

***

The AHS boys, meanwhile, have seen their overall record dip to 3-3 (after a 3-0 start) with consecutive losses to Lowell, Phillips Academy and Central Catholic.

Schedule

The MVC dual-meet season concludes next Tuesday when the Andover girls travel to Methuen (3:30 p.m.).

Andover will also host the annual MVC Championship meet on May 20 at the Lovely oval.

Andover girls 103 Lowell 43

The Lady Warriors placed first in 13 of 17 events and had double wins from Sheena Patel and Ogechi Ibe on the way to victory at Cawley Stadium in Lowell.

Patel was tops in the long jump (15'1") and 300-meter intermediate hurdles (49.2), while Ibe tossed the shot 35'11 1/2" and the discus 107'6."

Contributing an individual win each in the running events were freshman Stephanie Casper (400 meters, 63.7), Holly Boucher (800 meters, 2:28.6), miler Emily Pfeil (5:44.9), freshman two-miler Caitlin Geary (12:30.9) and 100-meter high hurdler Megan Munroe (17.0).

Freshman Courtney Hale led a sweep of the pole vault by clearing 7'0," while Emily Gentile and Sarah Percival were tied for second with identical 6'6" vaults.

Andover also swept the high jump, long jump and 800 meters.

Liz Connors cleared 4'10" in the high jump, with Pfeil (4'10") and Natasha Camilo (4'8") second and third respectively.

Siobhan Landry soared 32'11 1/2" in the triple jump with Stephanie Pierce (32'9") and Casper (31'11") not far behind.

Following Boucher in the 800 were Lindsay Durkin (2:32.0) and Caitly Murray (2:34.7).

The 4x100 sprint relay quartet of Munroe, Lindsay Ravens, Jen Kane and Julie Marvin (54.6).

Other runners-up were Pierce (100-meter hurdles, 17.2), Janelle Larose (400 meters, 64.9), Robin Young (shot put, 32'1"), freshman Katie Cail (300 hurdles, 50.8) and Marvin (200 meters, 27.7).

AHS Roundup: Baseball team moves closer to title berth

Adding thirds were freshman Holly Hinds (two-mile), 13:01.0, Cail (100 meters, 13.3), Laura O'Connell (mile, 5:59.9), Landry (long jump, 14'6"), Ravens (200 meters, 28.3) and Stephanie Auchterlonie (discus, 78'3").

Andover girls 88

Central Catholic 55

Double winners in the title-clinching triumph at the Lovely oval were Ogechi Ibe, in the shot put (35' 1/2") and discus (111'2"), and Sheena Patel in the 100-meter high hurdles (16.1 seconds) and 300-meter intermediate hurdles (47.8).

Adding one victory each for the MVC champs were pole vaulter Emily Gentile (6'6"), triple jumper Siobhan Landry (34'2"), high jumper Natasha Camilo (4'10"), miler Laura O'Connell (5:49), Stephanie Casper (400 meters, 65.3), Holly Boucher (800 meters, 2:26) and two-miler Caitlin Geary (12:38).

Robin Young placed second for the locals in both the shot put (33'0") and javelin (93'5") tosses.

Other runners-up were triple jumper Jenny Hsu (33'9"), high jumper Emily Pfeil (4'10"), 100-meter hurdler Megan Munroe (16.9), miler Caitlin Hamer (5:50.3), Janelle Larose (400 meters, 66.0) and two-miler Holly Hinds (13:22.3).

Liz Conners cleared 4'8" to complete a sweep of the high jump, while other AHS thirds went to Ashley Faulk (javelin, 88'1"), Hsu (100 meters, 13.4) and Julie Marvin (200 meters, 28.4).

Phillips Academy 89

Andover girls 56

The Lady Warriors had individual wins from shot putter Ogechi Ibe (35'3 1/2"), long jumper Sheena Patel (15'6") and high jumper Natasha Camilo (4'10").

Patel also had a pair of second places in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles (49.5) and 100-meter high hurdles (17.1), while Ibe was a runner-up in the discus toss (113'3").

Others placing second were pole vaulter Courtney Hale (6'6"), Robin Young (javelin, 95'5"), Siobhan Landry (triple jump, 32'9"), Liz Conners (high jump, 4'10"), Jenny Hsu (100 meters, 13.4), Emily Pfeil (1,500 meters, 5:15.7), previously-undefeated Holly Boucher (800 meters, 2:25.4) and Caitlin Geary (3,000 meters, 10:56.5).

Earning third places for AHS were pole vaulter Emily Gentile (6'0"), Landry (long jump, 14'10"), Megan Munroe (100 hurdles, 17.1), Laura O'Connell (1,500 meters, 5:16.0), Janelle Larose (400 meters, 66.1) and Caitlin Woo (3,000 meters, 12:09).

Melissa Donais led the way for PA with school-record times in the 800 meters (2:17.5) and 3,000 meters (10:16.4).

Momo Akade won both the 100-meter (13.0) and 200-meter (26.4) dashes for the Big Blue, while Alex Zukerman was a double winner for coach Dick Collins' squad in the 100-meter high (15.6) and 300-meter intermediate (47.6) hurdles races.

Undefeated Phillips Academy improved to 7-0 overall.

Central Catholic 89

Andover boys 51

The Golden Warriors managed five first-place finishes against the undefeated Raiders.

Adam Spiller was a double winner in the shot put (44'7 1/2") and discus (133'0") tosses, while Brian DeAngelo won the long jump (19'7").

The only victors on the track were sprinter Jeremy Spiegel in the 100 meters (11.2), and the 4x100 sprint relay quartet of Spiegel, Ben Perkins, Charles Murnane and Mike Donahue (45.2).

Murnane added a pair of second-place individual finishes in the 110-meter high hurdles and high jump.

Other AHS runners-up were Dave Cordima (javelin), Perkins (long jump), two-miler Tim Galebach, Ross Inman (100 meters) and 300-meter intermediate hurdler Kyle Miller.

Galebach was forced to take a back seat when Central's Chris Grange ran the deuce in 9:53.1.

Contributing third places for the Golden Warriors were DeAngelo (triple jump), two-miler Brendan Ahern, miler Greg Stamm, Mike Ring (800 meters) and Perkins (200 meters).

Central (40) won 11 of the 16 events contested and swept the pole vault and 400 meters.

Lowell 78

Andover boys 62

The locals placed first in only six of the 16 events contested at Lowell's Cawley Stadium (no 4x400 relay).

Earning individual wins were high jumper Charles Murnane (5'6"), shot putter Adam Spiller (45'0"), sprinters Jeremy Spiegel (100 meters, 11.1) and Ben Perkins (200 meters, 23.5) and two-miler Tim Galebach with an outstanding season-best 10:01.3 clocking.

Galebach was pushed to the excellent time by 2-3 finishers Julio Otero and Pat Morasse of Lowell, who also battled wire-to-wire with the AHS distance standout during the cross country season and in indoor track.

The AHS sprint relay of Spiegel, Ross Inman, Perkins and Mike Donahue also romped home in 45.3.

Dave Cordima earned a pair of second places in the javelin toss (156'7 1/2") and high jump (5'4").

Inman was second in the 100 meters (11.4) and third in the discus (110'11"), DeAngelo second in the long jump (19'6 3/4") and third in the triple jump (40'7 3/4"), and Kyle Miller placed second in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles (42.0) and third in the 110-meter high hurdles (16.4).

Other AHS runners-up were pole vaulter Mike Morrissey (9'6"), Shahriar Ghandchi (400 meters, 54.2) and Spiller (discus, 119'8").

Additional third places went to Perkins (long jump, 19' 1/4"), Josh Rogacki (javelin, 133'0"), shot putter Mike Burnett (40' 1/2"), Bruce Brown (100 meters, 11.5) and miler Greg Stamm (4:52.3).

Lowell double winners were Mo Molai in the long jump (20'7") and triple jump (41'5"), Jeff Meehan in the 110 hurdles (15.4) and 300 hurdles (school-record 40.5), and Dave Silva in the pole vault (9'6") and 400 meters (53.5).

Phillips Academy 102

Andover boys 42

Capt. Charles Murnane was a double winner for the Golden Warriors in the high jump (6'1") and 110-meter high hurdles (15.7).

The only other first-place finisher was pole vaulter Mike Morrissey (10'0").

Adam Spiller earned a pair of second places in the shot put (43'1") and discus (126'9") tosses, while additional runners-up were Dave Cordima (javelin, 145'10"), sprinter Jeremy Spiegel (100 meters, 11.5), Kyle Miller (300-meter intermediate hurdles, 42.3), Ross Inman (200 meters, 23.8) and long distance ace Tim Galebach (3,000 meters, 9:23.4).

Completing the scorers with thirds were Brian DeAngelo in the triple jump (38'9"), Josh Rogacki (javelin, 130'11"), Miller (100 hurdles, 16.8), Mike Ring (800 meters, 2:07.2), Ben Perkins (200 meters, 24.0) and Brendan Ahern (3,000 meters, 9:45.3).

Freshman distance runner Mike Grant was a double winner for Phillips, leading wire-to-wire in the 800 meters (2:03.6) and 1,500 meters (4:14.5).

Weightman Sterling Burke placed first in both the shot put (47'10") and discus toss (131'2"), while James Jones uncoiled a prodigious 44' 1/4" effort to win the triple jump. Jones was also second in the long jump (20'7") and third in the high jump (5'10").

Andover resident Emerson Sykes won the 400 meters (53.9) for PA, which improved to 4-0 on the season.

MVC Girls Frosh/Soph

The Andover girls placed first in three events at the annual Merrimack Valley Conference Freshman/Sophomore Meet at Cawley Memorial Stadium in Lowell.

Earning top honors were Caitlin Hamer in the freshman mile (5:48.8), triple jumper Stephanie Casper (32'2 1/4") and shot putter Betsy Miller (30'3").

Placing second were freshmen Vicki Britton in the discus (76'3") and Katie Cail in the 300-meter hurdles (49.5).

Amy Fortier was third in the high jump (4'4"), and fourth places went to Kaitlyn Murphy in the 300 hurdles (50.4) and Natasha Camilo in the 400 meters (66.6).

Earning fifths were freshman long jumper Carolyn Berberian (14'7 1/2"), shot putter Catie Newman (23'9 1/2"), Ashley Faulk (javelin, 84'0") and miler Carrie Hanson (6:16.7).

Kristina Aroujo was sixth in the 800 meters (2:42.1), Janelle Larose sixth in the 200 meters (29.2) and Prity Kapoor sixth in the 100-meter high hurdles (21.2).

***

The MVC boys Frosh/Soph Meet was held the following day in Lowell, but Andover did not compete because it conflicted with the dual meet against crosstown rival Phillips Academy.

BASEBALL

Victories over Lawrence and Chelmsford enabled the Andover High varsity baseball team to move closer to an MIAA Division 1 North Tournament berth.

The wins, sandwiched around a 5-0 loss to Central Catholic, left the Golden Warriors at 7-7 overall, 7-5 in terms of tourney qualification and 4-4 in Division 1 of the Merrimack Valley Conference.

Schedule

Andover played at Methuen yesterday, travels to Lowell tomorrow, and wraps up the MVC schedule next week with games Monday at home against Haverhill and Wednesday at Division 2 leader Tewksbury (3:30 p.m.).

The regular season concludes with a trio of non-league road games at West Roxbury (May 19), at Peabody (May 22, 7 p.m.) and at Revere (May 24).

Team Leaders

Through the first 13 games (not including Lawrence), Kevin Shepard had the best batting average on the team at .404. He was also tops in hits (19), RBI (13), doubles (4), triples (3) and slugging percentage (.653).

Danny Hughes was batting .389, Jeff Marshall .310, Jeff Volinski .300, Chris Caverly .294, Andy Bellistri .278 and Dave Powers .273.

The team batting average was .303.

Volinski was tops in runs scored with 13, while Powers had drawn the most walks (11) and Hughes had the most stolen bases (5).

Hughes also has three doubles and two triples, Lawton and Volinski two triples each, and the two AHS homers belong to Shepard and Volinski.

On the mound, Volinski was 3-1 with a 2.31 ERA and 27 strikeouts in 27 1/3 innings.

Shepard checked in at 24 with a 3.37 ERA and 32 Ks in 27 innings.

Mark Matos was 1-0 with a 0.81 ERA.

Central Catholic 5

Andover 0

The Golden Warriors did very little with the lefthanded serves of Central's undefeated Brad Laurin (5-0), who checked the locals on four hits while striking out a season-high 14 and walking only one.

It was the second shutout of the season for Laurin, and marked the third time AHS has been whitewashed as Peabody and Brockton did it earlier.

The victory was the eighth straight for the Raiders, defending MVC Division 1 champs, who improved to 10-1 overall, 8-0 in conference play and became one of the first teams in the state to qualify for the MIAA Tournament.

Andover lefty Kevin Shepard, who had late-inning relief help from Jeff Volinski, suffered his fourth loss of the season although Central managed only six hits.

Miles Page gave the winners a 1-0 first-inning lead when he doubled home Kyle Mailloux with the only run necessary.

It remained 1-0 until Nick Tucarella singled in the fifth to rescue Brad Tardugno (walk).

Page laced a two-run triple and scored on Laurin's infield out in the sixth to complete the CCHS offense.

Shepard produced a pair of hits for Andover, while Volinski ripped a double and leadoff batter Danny Hughes added a single.

Page and Tardugno had two hits each for Central and Mailloux scored a pair of runs.

Andover 5

Chelmsford 1

The locals completed a sweep of the visiting Lions (3-1 earlier win) as junior righthander Mark Matos (1-0) fired a complete-game five-hitter for his first varsity pitching victory.

AHS spotted Chelmsford a 1-0 first-inning lead before rallying for two runs in the second, two in the fourth and a final tally in the top of the seventh at Ayotte/Varney Field in Chelmsford.

Matos also contributed a pair of hits to the Andover attack, while Kevin Shepard doubled, Sean Lawton tripled and singles were laced by Jeff Volinski, Chris King and Chris Caverly.

Shepard, Caverly, Matos and Danny Hughes collected an RBI each.

Matos struck out four and walked three.

BOYS VOLLEYBALL

Andover nailed down its 10th MIAA Division 1 North Tournament berth in the last 12 years with recent 2-0 Merrimack Valley Conference victories over Lawrence and Methuen.

The locals then dropped a hotly-contested 2-1 decision to visiting Lowell to snap a five-match win streak and set the overall record at 10-4.

Schedule

Andover played at Westford Academy last night, travels to Dracut tomorrow and hosts Haverhill next Monday night (7 p.m. varsity start).

AHS Roundup: Volleyball team avenges loss to Lawrence

The rematch with St. John's Prep is next Wednesday night in Danvers (7 p.m.).

Andover 2 Lawrence 0

The Golden Warriors avenged a tough 2-1 loss to the Lancers on April 5, handing Lawrence only its second loss of the season with the 15-10, 15-11 sweep at the Dunn Gym.

"This was our best effort so far," said coach George Sullivan. "They played their hearts out and we were psyched to beat a team like Lawrence so convincingly."

"Our kids were fired up after losing to them the first time. They were determined not to be embarrassed. Not in our gym."

The locals have lost only two of nine matches at home — to powerhouse St. John's Prep and Lowell.

"Everyone played well," said Sullivan. "Kevin Hess was back and that was a big factor. We changed our offense — again — but this time it was for the better."

"The kids were strong serving and hitting — and they also blocked well."

The Golden Warriors led by four or five points most of the way in game two, until Lawrence rallied to close the deficit to 10-8.

"We pulled away again but got stuck on 14 points," said Sullivan. "We went through three rotations before getting the final point to close out the match."

Ryan Slavin and Chris Morrissey led the attack with at least a dozen kills each.

"Those guys were dominant at the net," said Sullivan. "They were banging the ball really tagging it. They weren't worried about anything except hitting the ball hard. And Slavin had his jump serve working."

The coach also lauded the serving of Adam Turbett and the play of Josh Brooks at the net.

***

The AHS junior varsity, avenging a loss to Lawrence the first time they met, rolled to a 2-0 victory by game scores of 15-4 and 15-5.

Setting well for the winners were Tim

An. Shawn Furey and Stu Smilowicz, while middle hitters Cameron Dav and Mike Chabot were strong on the attack.

Lowell 2

Andover 1

Lowell won the first game in overtime, 16-14, and Andover tied the match with a tight 15-13 second-game triumph.

The Red Raiders, avenging a 2-1 loss to the Golden Warriors in Lowell on April 10, then won the deciding third game, 15-7.

Top contributors for Lowell were Sela Thach (nine kills, two block solos), Adler Augustin (20 kills, five block solos), Cham Chan (37 assists, two block solos) and Lincoln Januario (seven kills, three aces).

Petzold named to US Freestyle Ski Team

Andover resident Brenda Petzold has been named to the United States Freestyle Ski Team for the 2000-2001 season.

The news came out of Park City, Utah on Monday.

Petzold, whose specialty event is aerials, is one of six women named to the prestigious A Team.

She is the only New Englander selected and one of two eastern residents. Her teammates are from California, Colorado (2), Utah and New York.

Andover Massage Therapy

Spring is here and time for hiking and biking, time for raking and paint scraping - and time for Andover Massage Therapy for all those sore and aching muscles.

People go to Andover Massage Therapy for all kinds of reasons. Some go with specific physical complaints such as low back ache, stiff neck, restricted shoulders, headaches and sports injuries which perhaps other modalities have not helped. While others go with the awareness that they can reduce their stress related complaints with some relaxing massage. Many are discovering that massage can be a useful part of one's preventative healthcare. Faced with the stress of our fast paced way of life, for many, massage is far from being an "indulgence" as it means fewer headaches, less pain and a greater level of functioning in everyday life. Sometimes pain is caused by trigger points in the muscles. The pain causes the muscle to spasm, leading to decreased blood flow and more pain. Deep tissue massage and trigger point work can break this pain/spasm cycle. Just as each person is different, each massage is tailored to individual needs and may involve a combination of techniques.

Five therapists work out of Andover Massage Therapy. Owner Judy Brezner excels at deep tissue work for specific problems and is certified in pregnancy massage. Ken St. Pierre specializes in sports massage, deep tissue work and reflexology. Kristen Donegan utilizes passive movement and stretching with deep tissue work, she is also certified in pregnancy massage. Laura Fedele combines swedish, neuromuscular and lymphatic massage to facilitate movement and relaxation, and Joanne Lunney offers deep tissue massage, sports massage and stress reduction. All therapists are licensed by the Town of Andover and active members of the American Massage Therapy Association. Day, evening and Saturday appointments are available.

Gift Certificates make the perfect gift and are available in 30, 60 and 90 minute sessions. Calls for information and appointments are returned promptly. The office is located downtown at 93 Main Street in Olde Andover Village. Telephone 474-4905 to receive an informational brochure.

BUSINESS PROFILES

Frames Unlimited

You might call it one of the best kept secrets in Andover - Frames Unlimited that is. "We've been here almost 20 years," says co-owner Joel Steinberg with a smile. "So it amazes me when people come in and say that they never knew we were here before."

Frames Unlimited has been offering framing services from its Shawsheen Plaza storefront since 1981. Founded by his parents, the business is managed today by Joel Steinberg and partner, Stephen Martin.

Frames Unlimited specializes in custom framing of paper art, oil paintings, three-dimensional keepsakes such as sport shirts and gowns, needlepoint, children's art, portraits - anything you'd want displayed regardless of size or dimension.

The store offers dry mounting, custom cutting of mats, frames and glass, as well as shadow box framing and fine art preservation. Joel says fine art preservation, which utilizes conservation glass and acid-free materials, has grown in popularity.

"If you use cardboard and regular paper mats, as the years go by, the acidity in those materials will harm your artwork. So for someone looking to frame a signed lithograph worth a few thousand dollars, conservation framing makes sense," Joel remarks. "Certain types of art can even become collectible and appreciate in value over time if properly framed and cared for."

Frames Unlimited also sells a variety of ready-made frames, ideal for framing standard-sized photographs and certificates quickly and inexpensively.

Frames Unlimited is at 209 Main Street, Shawsheen Plaza. The store is open Tuesday, Wednesday, Saturday, 9:30 a.m. - 5 p.m., Thursday and Friday, 9:30 a.m. - 7 p.m. Stop by and see their "Local Artist of the Month" exhibit. For more information, call 978-470-0432.

North Andover Auto Body

Collision repair on today's vehicles can be complicated and challenging. For more than 20 years, North Andover Auto Body has been meeting these needs for local residents and businesses. North Andover Auto Body understands that the process of repair extends further than simply returning the vehicle to pre-accident condition. Numerous concerns arise during the repairs. Substitute transportation, correspondence with insurance companies, and satisfying the requirements of loan and lease companies, just to name a few. North Andover Auto Body is a family business that strives to handle the entire process for their clients. The tasks involved are dispersed among the family members thus insuring that their clients' needs are addressed on a personal level. One phone call is all that is necessary and North Andover Auto Body will coordinate everything from towing, rental, sublet repairs, alignment, glass repairs and mechanical needs. When insurance correspondence is necessary, the shops years of experience in the industry assures that their customers' best interests are protected at all times. North Andover Auto Body is located at 374 Osgood St., North Andover (near the high school). Hours are Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday, 8 a.m. to noon (except July and August). Telephone (978) 683-6000.

Executive Director Chris Sullivan on "Main Street"

Marland Place

Marland Place is an independent and assisted living community that offers private apartments, with restaurant-style dining rooms, living rooms, and library facilities. The philosophy behind Marland Place is to provide residents the support they need to maintain an active, independent lifestyle while ensuring all the comforts of home.

"Our biggest objective is resident satisfaction," says Natalie Gaudet, director of marketing for Marland Place. That satisfaction is obvious the moment you step onto Main Street.

Main Street at Marland Place is an indoor, brick-lined lane complete with trees, flowers, park benches, and a sidewalk mailbox. A stroll down Main Street includes such sights as a bank, hair salon, pub, and general store — not to mention a handful of residents gathered for a friendly game of cards, reading, or relaxing in the sunshine.

"Because of Main Street, people get to know each other much more easily than if we only offered traditional living rooms," says Gaudet.

But Main Street is just one of the unique characteristics of Marland Place. The entire facility was designed to offer the convenience and companionship of a small town in a bright, stimulating environment.

Marland Place provides a full program of social, cultural, and wellness activities directed by a qualified, caring, professional staff. And because Marland Place is located in the heart of Andover, residents have easy access to local shopping, entertainment, and health care resources.

Housed in a refurbished, 1820's mill building, Marland Place is located at 15 Stevens Street. With bucolic views of the Shawsheen River and surrounding woodlands, scheduling a tour is certainly worthwhile by calling 978-475-4225.

A cutting question

share the burden, at a time when the school department may be trying to staff two new schools.

"There would probably be some massive battles at Town Meeting," says Brian Major, selectmen chairman.

But there is some difference of opinion over how painful the cuts will have to be.

"I'd say it's a significant impact (if Question 1 fails)," says Stapczynski, "particularly when it's spread over a number of years, and we have rising labor costs, and the costs of goods and services going up. We know there's going to have to be belt-tightening in the years ahead, and this means (cuts) in even the modest growth we planned."

However, FinCom Chairman Don Schroeder says that because the real effects won't be felt until FY '02, it's difficult to project what kind of cuts will be needed. The town's tax base has been growing in recent years, and if that were to accelerate, or stop, it could significantly skew any projections, he says.

Though Schroeder can't say what the exact effects of defeating Question 1 will be, he acknowledges there will definitely be "some cutback of some level."

After all, the Finance Committee told Town Meeting that if Andover continues its current spending, it will face a $1 million shortfall by 2003.

"You would probably have some service cut or you couldn't expand some service," says Schroeder. "Either you wouldn't be able to operate some facility, or staff some position."

But compared to the town manager's remarks, and assuming the town would need an approximately 1 percent annual budget cut, Schroeder seems to downplay the effects. "You wouldn't see services drastically cut with a one percent cut. But the definition of 'drastically' (is subjective)," he says.

The Finance Committee has not taken a position on Question 1, because of time constraints around preparing for Town Meeting, he says. Schroeder says he individually cannot take a position either.

"I really can't," he says. "We didn't take a position because we didn't have all the information. We recommended approval of the public safety center at Town Meeting (1999), but that didn't specify a funding mechanism."

Selectman Lori Becker has suggested a possible fall-back plan if the town finds itself in a monetary jam.

"If Question 1 doesn't pass, we could at some point try to override the operating budgets when they're at their crunch time," she says.

There will be three questions on the May 23 ballot. One will decide how to fund the safety center, Question 2 will decide if the town will build two new schools, and Question 3 will decide if the town will build sidewalks to those schools.

Program for seniors

Tax voucher program enters a new year

The town of Andover is sponsoring a homeowner tax voucher program. For 100 hours of community service, homeowners can get a $500 deduction from their tax bill.

Eligibility requirements: Andover resident, homeowner, age 60+ or spouse or person with disability. The tax credit is applied to primary residences only.

A forum for potential applicants will be held Wednesday, June 7 from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. at Andover Senior Center, 30 Whittier Court.

Attendance at the forum is mandatory for all applicants to be considered for the lottery.

Applications will be available at the Senior Center on June 1. The lottery to choose candidates will be held on Friday, June 16.

For more information, call Olivia Scileppi at 623-8321.

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by James F. Taft, Joanne M. Taft and Gilda G.S. Mendonsa to First Essex Savings Bank dated January 23, 1987 and recorded with the Essex County (Northern District) Registry of Deeds at Book 2416, Page 237, of which mortgage EMC Mortgage Corporation is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing, the same will be sold at Public Auction at 11:00 A.M. on May 30, 2000, on the mortgaged premises located at 34 West Parish Drive, Andover, Essex County, Massachusetts, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage,

TO WIT:

A certain lot or parcel of land, together with the buildings thereon, situated in Andover, Essex County, Massachusetts, shown as lot #32 on a plan of land entitled, "Subdivision & Acceptance Plan 'West Center Acres'", dated January 1956, Clinton F. Goodwin, C.E., duly recorded with Essex North District Registry of Deeds as Plan No. 3235. Said lot, according to said plan, is more particularly bounded and described as follows:

NORTHEASTERLY by West Parish Drive, one hundred twenty and 30/100 (120.30) feet;
SOUTHEASTERLY by Lot # 31 on said plan by two courses respectively measuring, eighty-six (86) feet, and one hundred forty and 3/100 (140.03) feet;
SOUTHERLY by land of owners undesignated, one hundred nine (109) feet;
WESTERLY by Thresher Road by two courses respectively measuring, eighty-one and 62/100 (81.62) feet, and one hundred ninety-seven and 47/100 (197.47) feet; and NORTHWESTERLY by a curved line forming the intersection of said West Parish Drive and Thresher Road, forty-five and 63/100 (45.63) feet.

Containing thirty-three thousand one hundred thirty (33,130) square feet of land more or less. Subject to conditions and restrictions of record insofar as the same may now be in force and applicable to Zoning by-laws of the Town of Andover. For mortgagor's title see Essex North District Registry of Deeds Book 1272 Page 640.

For mortgagor's title see deed recorded with Essex County (Northern District) Registry of Deeds in Book 4408 Page 100.

These premises will be sold and conveyed subject to and with the benefit of all rights, rights of way, restrictions, easements, covenants, liens or claims in the nature of liens, improvements, public assessments, any and all unpaid taxes, tax titles, tax liens, water and sewer liens and any other municipal assessments or liens or existing encumbrances of record which are in force and are applicable, having priority over said mortgage, whether or not reference to such restrictions, easements, improvements, liens or encumbrances is made in the deed.

TERMS OF SALE:

A deposit of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars by certified or bank check will be required to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. The balance is to be paid by certified or bank check at Ablitt, Caruolo & De Pasquale, LLP, 333 North Avenue, 4th Floor, Wakefield, MA 01880, within thirty (30) days from the date of sale. Deed will be provided to purchaser for recording upon receipt in full of the purchase price. The description of the premises contained in said mortgage shall control in the event of an error in this publication.

OTHER TERMS, IF ANY, TO BE ANNOUNCED AT THE SALE.
